CONFEREES REPORT NO PROGRESS ON TAX BILL

Not One Controversial Point Agreed on in Week, They Say — Adjournment May Be Delayed Until July.

CONGRESS MEETS FOLLOWING RECESS

With Republicans Back From Cleveland Conference Discusses 15 to 25
Pct. Graduated Levy on Corporation Profits.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Congress met again today after a week's recess for the Republican convention.

Its Republican members back from Cleveland, the committee seeking to reconcile House and Senate differences on the tax bill took up the most serious points of contention—the proposed levies on undistributed corporate earnings.

"We may be nearer an agreement than I guess we are," said Chairman Doughton of the House conferees after the morning meeting. He expressed hope of passage by the end of this week, but other conferees said not one controversial phase of the measure had been agreed on.

26 Proposals Discussed.
The tax bill conferees talked over a 15 to 25 per cent tax on corporation income, graduated according to the percentage of profits not distributed to shareholders. Members said that was only one of about 20 plans that were come over. Some said it had little chance of acceptance, because several Senators objected to it, particularly on the ground it would penalize small corporations which must retain profits for business purposes.

Under the plan, rates would be graduated thus, with the percentage of tax the first figure and the percentage of undistributed earnings the second: 25 per cent if no earnings were distributed, 24 and 20, 23 and 20, 22 and 20, 21 and 20, 20 and 20, 19 and 20, 18 and 20, 17
and 20, 16 and 20 and 15 per cent if all earnings were distributed.

One conferee said he believed there was desire among the House conferees to talk again with President Roosevelt about taxes. He said he thought individuals would consult Roosevelt.

The 15 to 25 per cent proposition leans toward the form of the bill passed by the House and is in line with what Roosevelt wants.

Relief Bill Dispute.
Conferees on the other major pre-adjournment measure, the deficiency appropriation bill carrying $1-$2,000,000 for relief, had their first meeting but reported they considered no controversial items before recessing for lunch.

Senator Adams (Dem., Colorado), head of the Senate conferees on this bill, said it was "among the possibilities" that an agreement might be reached this afternoon. He expressed belief that it was not vital whether the President or "someone working for him" administered the relief funds. The house put administration of the relief money in Administrator Hopkins' hands, but the Senate placed this authority directly with the President.

As to the general outlook for adjournment before the Democratic convention next week, Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, refused to make a definite prediction.
"It all depends on the Conference Committee," he said.

Whether the proposed price-fixing substitute for the invalidated Guffey Coal Control law would be passed for passage was uncertain.
It was approved with some modifications by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and there was a possibility of House action on it during the day.

Leaders are pressing for completion of the 74th session before the Democratic convention opens June 23 at Philadelphia.

Other Unfinished Business.
In addition to the tax and relief bills, Congress has yet to act on conference reports on the Treasury, Postoffice and the Interior Department and the District of Columbia preparation bills as well as the Robinson-Patman anti-trust discrimination measure, the anti-lobby bill and a number of minor bills.

The House reached quick agreement on the disputed Western reclamation program today, voting $1,000,000 for projects in eight states—a reduction of $27,000,000 in appropriations approved by the Senate.

Chinese Pirates Attack American Hospital; 5 Killed

Ambushed by Police with Machine-Guns at Amoy — Two Defenders, Three Outlaws Lose Lives.

By the Associated Press.

AMOI, China, June 15.—Pirates attacked the American hospital here tonight but were beaten off after a machine-gun fight in which five men were killed.

Those killed were three pirates and two policemen.

The hospital was not damaged and none of the attacks was injured.

The institution belongs to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church of America with headquarters in New York.

Dr. C. H. Holman of Chicago, superintendent of the hospital, and Miss Jean Heinheiss of Holland, Mich., chief nurse, had been expecting the pirate attack. For several days Ti Chui Hop, chief of a notorious band of outlaws operating in the district by land and sea, has been a patient in the hospital. He was wounded in a fight with police of Amoy. A police guard was thrown around the building.

The attack was made tonight from the sea. The pirates, armed with pistols and machine guns, sailed a pirate junk up to the shore on which the hospital is built.

When the junk reached shallow water, the attackers swarmed over the side and dashed across the sand.
The police, waiting in ambush, opened fire with machine guns. The pirates were unable to break through the police lines. After a sharp fight, the pirates escaped in their junk.

The wounded chieftain, Ti, was immediately transferred from the hospital to jail.

125 HUNGARIAN NAZIS GO ON TRIAL FOR HIGH TREASON

Members of "Scythe and Cross" Accused of Plotting March on Budapest and Assassinations.

BUDAPEST, June 15.—One hundred twenty-five Hungarian Nazis
—members of "The Scythe and Cross"—went on trial for high treason at Bekes today.

The prosecution charged the group had drawn up a list of prominent Hungarians for assassination and that peasants had been organized by the society with military discipline. The State asserted the prisoners had plotted to march on Budapest May 1 with an army of peasant farmers who were to filter into the capital as though arriving on a holiday excursion.

The alleged Nazi leader, Dr. Sol-tan Boszormenyi, who was arrested shortly before May Day, will be tried separately.

COMMITTEE VOTES TO STRIP EASTMAN OF AUTHORITY

Favors Continuing Him as Railway Co-ordinator But With Limited Powers.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today approved a joint Congressional resolution to continue Joseph B. Eastman as Co-ordinator of the transportation field. It would provide for an annual tax of $2 a mile on railroads.

Whether Congress could act finally on the measure in time to keep Eastman's job from expiring tomorrow, as scheduled under existing law, remained uncertain.

INDORSEMENT OF ROOSEVELT

Ladies' Garment Workers' Board
Aids "Unofficially."

NEW YORK, June 15.—The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union has "unofficially" indorsed the candidacy of President Roosevelt for re-election, union officers announced today. The indorsement was given by the union's general executive board.

"While we have no authority officially to indorse the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt," a union official said, "we, nevertheless, fully realize that great numbers in our union are strongly in sympathy with the movement sponsored by Labor's Non-Partisan League for Roosevelt for the reason that his re-election would be a victory of the forces of progressive labor and liberalism."

LONDON LIKELY TO CAMPAIGN IN EASTERN CITIES

He Will Start Speeches About Aug. 15 After Hamilton and Knox Have Begun Their Tours.

GOVERNOR HAS TYPICAL SUNDAY

Goes to Church With Wife
—Pastor Talks on "Being Ready" When Opportunities Come.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 15.—Gov.
Alf Landon was reported today to be attracted to the idea of speaking in several large Eastern cities, in his campaign for the presidency
preceding a probable Western tour.
John D. M. Hamilton, the Landon campaign manager who is the new National Chairman, came home today and received an enthusiastic welcome and the personal congratulations of Gov. Landon.

Under banners, "Welcome Home, John," the townspeople made a parade out of Hamilton's journey from the railroad station to the capitol. The 44-year-old lawyer ro-pied in an automobile with his wife, who found it "all very exciting."

Gov. Landon left his office and walked down the Capitol steps, waiting bare-headed under a broil-ing sun to meet Hamilton. "Well, John, I'm glad to welcome you home," said Landon.

Each said: "We're going to win."
Necessary to Close Doors.
The crowd was so enthusiastic that it was necessary for a time to close the doors to the Governor's office.

Hamilton Announces Staff.
Later Hamilton announced that Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the Landon floor leader at the national convention, would be in charge of the committee's New York headquarters.

He also announced that Carleton MacVeagh of Armonk, N. Y., would be assistant chairman of the committee for one year. A. J. Goodspeed of Chicago, vice-chairman of the Finance Committee, James Jappe of Cleveland will be Hamilton's private secretary.

Expected tomorrow are Col.
Frank Knox of Chicago, the vice-presidential nominee, and the subcommittee in charge of campaign strategy.

Authoritative sources indicated today the first speeches would be made by Hamilton, then Knox, with Landon starting about Aug. 15, after giving largely of his time to a special session of the Kansas Legislature in July.

Chicago Office by July 1.
Hamilton announced an office would be established in Chicago and that he expected to be there about 60 per cent of the time. "All elements of the various campaign divisions, he said, will be appointed and functioning by July 1."

If the Eastern tour materializes, it was said, Landon would not limit
it to the Pennsylvania and Ohio districts he knew as a boy, but would include such centers as New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

The Governor and Mrs. Landon enjoyed a typical Sunday, at church and at home. His candidacy was reflected, however, in a larger number of handshakes and well-wishes, and in the pastor's specific mention of "the great job ahead by all of us in the selection of the Governor of Kansas to become the Republican candidate for President of the United States."

BROTHER OF LATE SULTAN CHOSEN TO LEAD MOROS

He Will Ask Philippine Government to Give Him Monthly Pension and Land.

MANILA, June 15.—The Philippine Government was advised through official channels today that Raja Muda had been chosen by chieftains of the Moros to be the Sultan of Sulu. He succeeds his brother, Sultan Jamalul Kiram, who died June 7.

Muda, who said he was a descendant of Mohammed, threatened to fight if he was not chosen.

Among others who sought to succeed Kiram, were Datu Tambuong, a popular chieftain, and Datu Umbra Amilbanga, assemblyman from Sulu and husband of Princess Dayang Dayang, niece and adopted daughter of the old Sultan.

Government officials were informed that Muda was ready to ask the Insular Government to grant concession to him, including a monthly pension of $250 and a large sector of land on Jolo Island.

appeared in the streets of Fort Arthur and Fort William.

The plague is on the wane in Sudbury and North Bay rural districts. Trees are covered with the cocoons from which the caterpillars will emerge as moths.

VETERANS BEGIN GETTING THEIR BONUS BONDS

Postmen to Make Special Trips After 6 o'Clock to Carry Payments to Former Soldiers.

24,600 RECIPIENTS IN CITY AND COUNTY

$12,000,000 to Be Given Out in This Area — Benefits Will Average
About $500.

Bonuses of more than $12,000,000 which have been prepared for 24-600 World War veterans in St. Louis and St. Louis County will be distributed by postmen, starting at 6 o'clock tonight.

Regular mail carriers will be on special duty, because they are more likely to be acquainted with the veterans, to whom personal delivery of the registered envelopes must be made. In cases where the postman does not know the recipient, it was anticipated relatives or ordinarily at home during the day would be able to carry out a simple process of verbal identification.
The Postoffice did not expect to be able to find all veterans at home tonight. Repeated attempts to effect deliveries will be made, if necessary, during the next 30 days.
For the next day or two postmen will carry the letters on their regular rounds. Only residential deliveries will be made tonight, distribution to veterans who gave business addresses starting tomorrow.

On Rural Routes.

Mail carriers on five rural free delivery routes in St. Louis County will be at specified places after 6 o'clock tonight to wait for veterans expecting bonuses. Locations will be: Clayton, route 1, Ladue fire engine house, Clayton road, west of Price road; Clayton, route 2, Kessel-ring's tavern, Olive Street and Price roads; Olivette, Clayton, route 3, Bice's cafe, Lindbergh boulevard,
north of Conway road; Baden, routes 14 and 15, Baden Postoffice Station, 8325 North Broadway.

Other rural routes in the county will undertake delivery of the bonus on regular trips tomorrow, veterans having been requested to await the carriers.

Where veterans have moved within the jurisdiction of the St. Louis Postoffice and its suburban branches since applying for the bonus and have filed removal notices with the Postoffice, deliveries will be made to the new addresses in the ordinary way. However, this Postoffice will not forward the bonus letters to other branches until return of the notices to the Treasury instead. Veterans who have moved away from the city and suburbs must obtain forms from the Veterans' Administration, Jefferson Barracks, to arrange forwarding of their bonuses.

Bonds Bear 3 Pct. Interest.

Payments to veterans here will average about $500 each, the amounts depending on length of World War service. They will be made in bonds of $50 denomination, bearing 3 per cent interest if retained, plus checks for odd amounts less than $50.

Some Reports Say Expedition Has Given Up Attempt to Scale Peak.

DARJEELING, India, June 15.— Hugh Rutledge's British expedition gave up today, at least temporarily, an attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest. The climber fell back to their base camp as bad weather continued to sweep over the 29,002-foot mountain.

Some reports said the party intended to return here at once, while others indicated the expedition might linger at the camp waiting for an improvement in climbing conditions.

Torrential rains, raging snows and monsoons have harassed the party for weeks.

19,000 MORE WORKMEN JOIN STRIKES IN SPAIN

6000 Employees of English-Owned Mines Demand Vacation Salaries, Other Adjustments.

MADRID, June 15.—New strikes affecting 19,000 men were announced today, adding to numerous strikes paralyzing industry in various parts of Spain.

Nine thousand employees of the English-owned Rio Tinto mines in Huelva struck when their demands for vacation salaries and other pay adjustments were refused. In Madrid, 5000 tailors and 5000 wood-workers struck for higher wages, while the strike of 80,000 construc-

15,000 BONUS BONDS DUPLICATED, ORDER BARS CASHING THEM

Treasury Discovers Error After Mailing; Earlier 200,000 Cases Were Caught.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Discovery of errors which resulted in mailing of duplicate sets of bonds to veterans in various sections of the country caused last minute orders to Postmasters concerned not to certify for cash payment 15,000 bonds contained in 1500 packets on which delivery was canceled.

Officials said the Veterans' Administration previously had caught about 200,000 cases in which veterans had applied twice for the bonu-sus apparently prompted by fear their first applications had not been received. Last minute checking showed additional cases of duplication in bond shipments which had already gone out.

In some cases, shipments were stopped because clerical errors resulting in the bonds being incorrectly addressed, or when packets contained the wrong numbers of bonds.

Veterans' administration and Treasury Department officials said some inexperienced clerical help was used to aid regular workers in the task of checking and re-checking the more than $200,000 applications in order to meet the June 15 deadline.

REFUSES TO ISSUE ORDER AGAINST JONES & LAUGHLIN

Judges at New Orleans Declare Manufacturing Is Not Commerce and Federal Government Has No Power Over It.

FIRST SUCH DECISION ON THE WAGNER ACT

Pennsylvania Steel Corporation Upheld in Challenge of Demand That It Reinstate Ten Workers It Had Laid Off.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals denied today the right of the National Labor Relations Board to regulate the relations of employer and employee in production or manufacture.

The court unanimously denied the petition of the Labor Board to enforce an order requiring the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, to reinstate certain employees who alleged they had been dismissed because of organized labor activities at the company's plant at Aliquippa, Pa.

"The petition must be denied because under the facts found by the board and shown by the evidence," the court's opinion stated, "the board has no jurisdiction over a labor dispute between employer and employees touching the discharge of laborers in a steel plant, who were only engaged in manufacture."

"The Constitution does not vest in the Federal Government the power to regulate the relation as such of employer and employee in production and manufacture."

The Court declared further:
"That the employer has a very large business, the interruption of which by a strike of employees which might happen, and that in consequence of such strike production might be stopped and interstate commerce in the products affected, does not make the regulation of the relation justified under the commerce power of Congress, because the possible effect on interstate commerce is too remote to warrant Federal invasion of the state's right to regulate the employer-employee relation."

"Nor is it important that the employer imports part of his raw materials in interstate commerce and sells and exports a large part of his product in interstate commerce, which imports and exports would probably be stopped by a possible strike."

"The employers' entire business thus connected together does not, as respects Federal power, make a case different from that in which importation of materials, manufacture of them, and sale and export of the product are conducted by three persons. The employer here by doing all three things does not alter the respective constitutional spheres of the Federal and State governments."

"The making and fabrication of steel by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation is production regulable by the State of Pennsylvania, notwithstanding the corporation also engages in interstate commerce regulated by Congress in bringing in its raw material and again in selling and delivering its products."

In its argument the company contended that the 10 men dismissed were laid off for "violation of company rules."

The decision was the first by a
United States Circuit Court of Appeals on the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act, which set up the Labor Board.

The Jones & Laughlin petition was filed in the court here because the company has business connections in this district.

FARLEY AFRAID OF GOV. LANDON, HAMILTON SAYS

New G. O. P. Committee
Chief Says Democratic Leader Tried to Prevent Nomination of Kansan.

"THE GREAT GAME OF DECEPTION"

Intimates Cleveland Platform Is Too Honest for Postmaster General to Understand.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 15.—John Hamilton, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, charged in a statement yesterday that Democratic Chairman James A. Farley had tried "for months to prevent the nomination" of Gov. Alf Landon and was "clearly dissatisfied" with both the Republican presidential choice and the party's platform.

Hamilton's statement was in answer to one issued in New York by Farley, who said the Cleveland convention had dominated a "synthetic candidate on a counterfeit New Deal platform."

In issuing his statement on arrival here from Cleveland, Hamilton said:

"If it's going to be a dirty campaign, we'll let him (Farley) set the tempo of it."

Statement of Hamilton.

Hamilton's statement follows: "Mr. Farley is, of course, both frightened and disappointed. He is clearly dissatisfied both with the Republican candidate for the presidency and with the Republican platform. That was one of the purposes of the Cleveland convention. He has been trying for months to prevent the nomination of Gov. Landon. He seems irritated that the party did not accept his impartial advice, and he expresses his irritation in his usual intemperate language."

"I am not particularly anxious to indulge in a battle of statements with Mr. Farley, but if he desires to continue during the coming weeks to misrepresent everything which is too honest for him to understand, I am perfectly willing to take issue with him. I shall, however, always feel some confusion during this campaign in answering Mr. Farley. If I knew whether he was making his statement as the Postmaster-General or the chairman of the Democratic National Committee or the chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee I could probably answer him more effectively."

"The Republican platform contains certain hard truths about the record of the New Deal which Mr. Farley does not seem to want to answer. By his silence I assume he admits that the entire indictment is true. As a matter of fact, he admits this by more than silence when he agrees that there are crucial domestic problems pressing for solution. There is a crucial domestic problem, and that is in getting rid of the present 'grab-bag' gang in Washington."

"Game of Deception."

"Mr. Farley says 'the great game of deception will soon be under way,' the citizens of this country, including many of those who once belonged to the apparently debunked Democratic party, had thought that the game of deception had been going on at a high rate of speed for the last three and one-half years."

"I am not surprised that Mr. Farley should have seen fit to refer to Gov. Landon's interpretation of the monetary plank as a hazy one, for I know that anything having to do with a sound monetary system is hazy to Mr. Farley, and it is quite comprehensible that he should have not understood either Gov. Landon's interpretation or the platform which provided for a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards. Mr. Farley, like his chief, has conveniently forgotten that these words were included in the Democratic platform of 1932. But the reaction of the country showed that in one brief telegram, which took two minutes to read, Gov. Landon made his stand on money clearer than Mr. Roosevelt has ever been able to do through three years of administration as chief executive."

Sympathy for Farley.

"We can all have a great deal of sympathy for Mr. Farley. His political creed does not include the possibility of a party united by anything except patronage. His experience with platforms and pledges is limited. Gov. Landon's telegram to the convention was in direct contrast to Mr. Roosevelt's action on the 1932 Democratic platform. Mr. Roosevelt was so eager for the nomination at any price that he flew to Chicago to accept the platform 100 per cent, and so far as the country knows never glanced at it again. Gov. Landon's action was different. I said on Thursday night that their characters were different. Every action bears my statement out."

"There is another line in the Republican platform which Mr. Farley and his friends probably will not understand. I refer to that which mentions 'private honor and public faith.'"

MINNESOTA PRIMARY TODAY; OLSON IN RACE

Seeks Senatorship Nomination, Magnus Johnson Candidate for Governor.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 15.—Minnesota was voting today for candidates for State and national offices with primary races in three parties.

Factional rows in the Democratic and Farmer-Labor parties and the aspirations of Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Magnus Johnson and the widow of Senator Schall attracted chief interest.

Johnson, former United States Senator and Congressman, sought the Farmer-Labor party nomination for Governor. He refused to accept the State convention's endorsement of United States Senator Elmer A. Benson, one of his rivals in the gubernatorial race.

Gov. Olson, seeking the senatorial nomination on the Farmer-Labor ticket, had only one opponent, Carl E. Taylor.

Mrs. Schall and Congressman Theodore Christianson were the Republican senatorial candidates. The Democratic senatorial candidates are Patrick J. Delaney and Beldin Loftsgaarden.

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Me., June 15.—Maine voted today for national and State nominations, including four congressional candidates for whom the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and Dr. Francis E. Townsend have stumped.

Father Coughlin broadcast yesterday in behalf of one Democratic and two Republican congressional candidates backed by his National Union for Social Justice. The Townsend plan founder spoke at Augusta for the Rev. J. Clarence Leckemby, seeking the Second District Republican nomination.

CONFEREES MAKE NO PROGRESS IN TAX BILL DISPUTE

Senate. Approval of the reduction broke three months' deadlock with the Senate over the Interior Department supply bill. The Senate had amended the bill to include $38,000,000 for reclamation, but conferees were unable to reach an agreement. Speedy Senate approval of the revised measure was predicted.

Speaker Bankhead said the House could quickly clean up its important unfinished business. If Congress does not finish its work this week, probably it will be in session through the first of July, since it is understood a week's recess will be taken for the Democratic national convention if the session runs into next week.

Robinson said he also expected the Senate to take up the $576,000,000 Wagner housing bill, which authorizes a four-year program of loans and grants by the Federal Government to local housing authorities.

MEXICAN GENERAL SOUGHT AFTER KILLING OF DETROIT MAN

Shooting Said to Have Followed Quarrel in Which Engineer Slapped His Wife.

MEXICO, D. F., June 15.—Police continued to search today for Gen. Rafael Lopez, charged with killing Guy D. Diver, a civil engineer of Detroit, Mich., in a domestic quarrel at the American home.

Diver, 38 years old, died at a hospital Saturday night from bullet wounds received after a quarrel with his Mexican wife, Herminia Gomez Diver.

Before her release by police, Mrs. Diver made a statement in which she said her husband slapped her after a jealous outburst, and attempted to shoot her. Mrs. Diver said her cousin, Gen. Lopez, who witnessed the quarrel, tried to disarm Diver, and in the struggle the engineer was killed.

JEWISH SETTLEMENTS AGAIN ATTACKED BY TERRORISTS

Train to Jerusalem Protected by Machine Gun Guard and Army Plane.

By the Associated Press.
JERUSALEM, June 15.—(Palmer Agency).—Jewish settlements were attacked again by Arabian terrorists last night despite the new Government regulations threatening the death penalty.

Mishmar Haemek, Givat Brenner, Mishmar Hayarden, Ein Vered and Menahemia were among the targets. The attackers were repulsed in every instance by colony guards.

A bomb was thrown today at the Jaffa Gate, in the old city of Jerusalem, but it failed to explode. Arabs standing near by pointed out two Jews as the throwers of the explosive.

Mordecai Mizrahi and Avraham Nuri were arrested. A new type of railway escort was provided last night when the evening train to Jerusalem, accompanied by a military guard equipped with a machine gun, was also protected by a military plane flying overhead.

ADOLF B. SPRECKELS HURT IN BOAT RACE ACCIDENT

Fifteen Spectators Also Injured
When Craft Plunges Into Crowd
On Shore at Seattle.

By the Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Wash., June 15.—Captured from a runaway racing boat that roared out of the water and into a throng of spectators yesterday, Adolf B. Spreckels, wealthy California sportsman, was reported in a serious condition today as surgeons worked to save his left arm.

Fifteen spectators were hurt, one seriously, when the outboard craft, piloted by the 28-year-old member of the Spreckels sugar fortune, bounded from the water to the shore of Green Lake near here.

Spreckels was thrown from the boat into the air and against a telephone pole where a blunt climbing spike impaled his arm and held him until he was rescued by spectators. The boat came to rest on the hood of a sound truck.

Spreckels is the son of John D. Spreckels II and grandson of John D. Spreckels, the sugar king, a brother of John D. Spreckels III, San Francisco.

The Cleveland platform, on finance, on economy, on the question of debts, the League of Nations, the preservation of the Supreme Court and the Constitution, the agricultural plank as far as it goes, and local self-government—to me, embodies democratic principles."

"Will you support Landon?" he was asked. "I am saying nothing about that," he said.

"Do you think Landon will be elected?" "Well, you know and we all know there are just more Republicans than there are Democrats, and when they get together they always win."

Banquet June 22 to Open Landon Campaign in New York.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Republican campaign here will be opened by National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton at a unity banquet June 22, designed to intensify the drive for campaign funds. Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who was floor leader for Gov. Landon at the Cleveland convention, will also speak at the banquet, which is being arranged by three groups—the Republican National Finance Committee, the New York State and the New York County (Manhattan) Republican Committees.

SOUTH FLORIDA CITIES CUT OFF BY FLOODS

Coast Guard Plane Crashes on Patrol Duty—Three Aboard
One Body Found.

By the Associated Press.

PORT MYERS, Fla., June 15.—Residents of many South Florida cities were marooned by high waters resulting from a tropical storm which crossed the State and swept out over the Atlantic Ocean today. There was heavy rainfall through the night, but no material wind damage was reported.

Coast Guard headquarters at Jacksonville announced that wreckage of the Coast Guard amphibian plane 148, missing on storm patrol duty, has been found in Tampa Bay. The crew of three men was reported lost.

Divers found the body of Lieut. Charles Martin Perrott, pilot of the plane jammed in the wreckage near St. Petersburg. No trace of Radioman Walter O. Morris and Aviation Mechanic William D. Eubanks was found, the divers reported. It was believed they may have been thrown clear of the craft when it struck. The plane sank in about 14 feet of water.

Streets of Bonita Springs, 20 miles south of here, were under one to 10 feet of water, and the Imperial River was far out of its banks. The 400 residents and 100 tourists took refuge in the school and an apartment house. There was danger of a food shortage.

The Government weather observer at Moore Haven reported rainfall in the 48-hour period prior to 8 a. m. today was 9.33 inches, the heaviest since the 1928 hurricane, when it was estimated between 12 and 15 inches fell. The rainfall was 8.4 inches between 8:30 a. m. Sunday and 8 a. m. today.

Several small bridges were swept away in the section near Moore Haven, which is on Lake Okeechobee, midway between Fort Myers and West Palm Beach.

A bridge was out near Palmdale, Wis. blew steadily through the night, but never reached gale velocity.

The Miami Weather Bureau reported at 9 a. m. the center of the disturbance had passed over Miami and was moving out into the Atlantic Ocean in a southeasterly direction. The Coast Guard air station reported a 30-mile wind. Rainfall in Miami since Friday was 6.67 inches. Many streets were flooded.

Naples reported rainfall of 16 inches in the last 72 hours. Rain still was falling early today all along the coast.

The State Highway Department closed the Tamiami Trail—only direct cross-State link between Fort Myers and Miami—after flood waters submerged the pavement at many points.

Southwest winds that rolled up high tides aggravated flood conditions at coastal points.

The storm, an unusually early tropical disturbance, originated somewhere in the neighborhood of the Yucatan Peninsula and moved in a northeasterly direction across the gulf.

Beach residents here and at St. Petersburg, Sarasota and other points left their homes when the Weather Bureau last night reported the disturbance was centered about 100 miles southwest of Fort Myers.

HOOVER BUYS $1.50 WATCH

'That's Brand to Use on Fishing Trips,' He Says.

By the Associated Press.

OGDEN, Utah, June 15.—Former President Hoover began getting ready to go fishing today by buying a watch. Pausing between trains, the former President hurried to a store. "Any dollar watches?" "Yes," said a clerk—but we have some better ones for a dollar and a half. "That one-fifty watch is the brand I always use on fishing trips," Hoover explained, smiling.

Later, as he waited to continue the journey back to Palo Alto, Cal., Hoover said: "I don't really care whether I catch any fish or not. The trip is just a good excuse to get away from the telephone and rest." He said whether he made any speeches in the campaign depended on whether the Republican National Committee and Gov. Landon desired it.

UNION ELECTRIC RATE CASE IN FINAL STAGE

After Eight Years of Preliminary State Commission Begins Hearing.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—After eight years of preliminary skirmishing, delays, appraisals and audits, final hearings on the valuation and rate investigation of the Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis, got under way today before the Missouri Public Service Commission. The hearings probably will require several weeks.

The present case, which has passed through many stages, was initiated in June, 1928, by the City of St. Louis, with a demand for an electric rate reduction approximately double one of $700,000 the company had put into effect on June 1 of that year. The latter reduction by the company followed an informal inquiry by the commission into increased company earnings in 1927.

The commission, company and city plunged immediately into details of the case when the hearings opened today, without the usual opening statements of counsel. A motion by the company to dismiss the proceeding was overruled several days ago.

Under an agreement reached recently, which was designed to expedite the hearings, engineers and auditors for the commission, city and company, prepared statements covering their direct testimony on exhibits and reports they had prepared. Details of these exhibits and reports were published as they were completed.

The purpose of these statements was to eliminate prolonged question and answer testimony on direct examination of witnesses. Cross-examination will be permitted later. Reading of these statements into the record was begun today and several days likely will be required to complete their introduction.

When the hearing opened the usual disparity in numbers between the representatives of the city and utility was apparent. The city was represented by one attorney and two engineers. The company was represented in the hearing room by 11 officials, attorneys, engineers and accountants. Ten commission attorneys, engineers and accountants were present.

A vast amount of engineering and auditing data has been compiled, covering thousands of pages of field notes, and reports. This must be sifted through by the commission in the course of the hearings, and its subsequent deliberations, in reaching a decision on the fair valuation of the company's property in Missouri, and used in the public service, and whether the company's rates are reasonable.

Commission engineers have estimated the reproduction cost of the St. Louis property, in public service less depreciation, at $78,351,416. The estimated value of all of the company's electric property in Missouri, less depreciation, was estimated at $111,860,628, on the same basis. Both estimates were of the property as it stood on June 30, 1934.

The City of St. Louis estimated the value of the electric property serving St. Louis at $74,700,000, as it stood on April 30, 1935.

The company estimated the reproduction, less depreciation, value of the St. Louis property at $103,048,507, and the value of the combined property at $149,274,357, on the same basis, both estimates as of April 30, 1935. Both of these estimates included allowances for going value, ranging up to $15,000,000 for the combined property.

FRENCH WORKERS WARN AGAINST INCREASED PRICES

Say They May Strike Again if Costs Go "Too High"—Government Moves to Check Extremists.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, June 15.—Workers, returning to their jobs 19 days after beginning their "folded arms" strike, assured of more pay and shorter hours, may ask for higher wages if prices of necessities go "too high," labor leaders asserted.

A new walkout might be called, they declared, regardless of the fact that higher costs of food and other commodities could be traced directly to the fattened pay envelopes and 40-hour work week demanded and received by the strikers.

Employers have estimated the labor reforms would increase the cost of production by 35 per cent, but the Government hopes to offset this by a business revival.

Trotsky's Paper Raided.

A drive in two directions against "enemies of the regime" was begun tonight.

Police raided offices of a newspaper alleged to be owned by Leon Trotsky, exiled Soviet leader. The Government charges the paper attempted to turn the strike movement into a revolution. Indictments against followers of Trotsky were drafted by a public prosecutor. They were accused of urging strikers to seize control of factories immediately.

Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro, after drafting decrees aimed at "seditious organizations," announced he would ask President Albert Lebrun to sign them at once. These measures, Salengro asserted, would "bring avowed and non-avowed enemies of the regime to reason." Through this step, the Government will strike both at the Rightist Croix de Feu, semi-Fascist organization of World War veterans, and extreme Leftists, if necessary.

The plants may soon become the property of the employees, asserted Communist Leader Maurice Thorez, in a "bloodless revolution" celebration at Lille.

The strikers, who for two weeks suspended manufacturing and industry in hundreds of establishments, did not damage the plants "because they knew they would soon become their property," Thorez said.

The "sit down" occupation, classified by Premier Leon Blum as actually illegal, denoted a "new legality which is forming," Thorez declared.

"The working class has proved it is capable of taking its own destiny in its own hands," he told a cheering throng.

Marseilles was the chief center of strike activities. Cafes, restaurants and theaters were closed.

Still to be arbitrated were walkouts of department store clerks, insurance company workers and dressmakers in Paris.

New Leftist Emblem.

A new Leftist emblem made its appearance during the victory celebrations. Combining the symbols of Communism and the French nation, it bears a hammer and sickle.

Mayor Takes Back Director of Public Safety Who Defied Him.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, June 15.—Mayor William M. McNair announced the recall today of Public Safety Director Thomas A. Dunn from an enforced 15-day furlough, which had been ordered because Dunn refused to make 116 police department changes.

"We need Tom to supervise our exposition and jubilee which opens next week," was the Mayor's explanation.

"I think it is a happy solution," commented Dunn, who not only had refused to order the police shakeup but disregarded the furlough mandate and directed the Chief of Police to pay no attention to McNair's appointment of himself as acting safety director.

As acting director McNair had ordered the shakeup with the result that many jobs had two men reporting for duty.

Judge Ralph H. Smith stepped in ordering a grand jury investigation of the police magistrates' offices. The Mayor, also a magistrate, appoints the other magistrates. Deputy sheriffs seized all the police court records, causing McNair to refuse to hear the cases of four men charged with disorderly conduct. He sent the cases to Judge Smith.

The judge had the Mayor arrested and bound over to the grand jury on a charge of misbehavior in office. McNair spent more than an hour in jail before his bail was furnished.

STRIKE AT GOVERNMENT DAM

30 Tygart Valley Engineers Quit
Typing Up Construction Work.

GRAFTON, W. Va., June 15.—A strike of skilled workers stopped construction work today on the Government's $12,000,000 Tygart Valley Flood control dam in the hills of Northern West Virginia.

Officials of the Frederick Sear Corporation, contractors in charge of the project, said about 30 striking engineers left their posts. The walkout threw several hundred other laborers out of work.

Strike leaders said they were demanding a general 15 per cent wage increase and a 42-hour week instead of the present 30-hour week, but corporation officers said the only demand made on them was the reinstatement of a dismissed operator of the mixing plant.

Government of Leon Blum. Forty prisoners were arrested.

BRUSSELS, June 15.—Premier Paul Van Zeeland formed a committee for public order today to control the situation created by a strike of approximately 150,000 workers in Belgium.

The Premier himself took over the presidency of the committee as 5300 more workers walked out in Liege and Seraing.

The diamond handlers of Antwerp returned to work, but the strike movement received new strength among miners, longshoremen, and metal workers. Electric workers went out in Liege, leaving the city without lights.

Communists in Syria Appeal to Blum After Fight With Police.

BEIRUT, Syria, June 15.—Communists telegraphed an appeal to the League of Nations today after 20 persons were wounded, some seriously, in a fight with police yesterday.

The crowd resisted police attempts to break up their demonstration. One officer was wounded seriously and the Chief of Police knocked down.

The Communists carried banners demanding an eight-hour day and higher wages, and praising the city without lights.

NIGHT CLUB OWNER SHOT BY WOMAN IN ROW IN HER HOME

Harry Anastas Gravely Wounded By Former Hostess at His Place, the Golden Dragon.

CALLS HER 'BEST FRIEND I EVER HAD'

He Takes Miss Marie Morrison to Mother After Shooting, Then Drives Alone to Hospital.

Harry Anastas, owner of the Golden Dragon night club at 11 North Sixth street, was shot and gravely wounded early today by Miss Marie Morrison, formerly hostess at the night club, who was described by Anastas after the shooting as "the best friend I ever had."

The shooting occurred, shortly before 2 a. m., in Miss Morrison's home at 2123 Maury avenue, as she and Anastas, who had been quarreling, struggled for possession of a pistol she had taken from a dresser drawer.

"He threatened to hit me, and I won't let anybody hit me, not even Harry," Miss Morrison told police.
She didn't intend to shoot him, but when I pulled my hand up the pistol went off."

The bullet passed through the palm of Anastas' right hand, entering his chest and ranged down the abdomen. Physicians at the city hospital said his condition was critical. Blood transfusions were ordered.

Tells Police Stranger Shot Him.
After the shooting Anastas took Miss Morrison to the home of her mother, Mrs. Rose Skaggs, 1331 Merchant street, and then drove alone to the hospital. There he told police a story of having been shot by one of two strangers who accompanied him near Vandeventer and Tower Grove avenues. Police doubted that story, and ultimately obtained a statement from Anastas that he had been shot by Miss Morrison.

Before Anastas changed his story, however, Sergeant Francis Dietz of the Magnolia Police Station learned of the shooting, and knowing of a previous quarrel between Anastas and Miss Morrison, went to her home. Finding that place vacant, and in disorder, he went to her mother's home.

Miss Morrison, a plump blonde, 30 years old, met him at the door.
"Why did you shoot Harry?" he demanded. "It was an accident; I didn't mean to do it," Miss Morrison replied.

GIRL FLYER, 17, DIVES
200 FEET TO DEATH

Reba Dee Gunn, Fort Worth,
Had 45 Hours in Air; Recent High School Graduate.

By the Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 15.— Miss Reba Dee Gunn was killed in an emergency landing field three miles from the municipal airport yesterday.
She was 17 years old.
She was dead when motorists, who saw the yellow monoplane suddenly dive to the ground from a height of 200 feet, reached "the wreckage."

A. W. Meadows, Department of Commerce Inspector, said low flying and rough air were responsible.
Miss Gunn had about 45 hours in the air, airport attendants said.
Last Aug. 29 she obtained her amateur license, entitling her to fly but not to carry passengers other than an instructor.

Men at the airport said Miss Gunn, whose graduation from high school this spring was deferred because of illness, sent the ship up to about 200 feet. At this altitude, she began executing vertical maneuvers before heading northwestward.

SWARM OF BEES LIGHTS
AT FOURTH AND PINE ST.

Insects Settle on Top Cornice of Old Mississippi Valley Trust Building.

A swarm of bees, of unknown origin and doubtful destination, picked one of the busiest corners in St. Louis today for a temporary resting place. They swarmed on the top cornice of the old two-story Mississippi Valley Trust Building at Fourth and Pine streets.

Pedestrians passing the corner were unaware of the bees until an occasional member of the swarm would depart on an exploration tour to the street below. Part of the swarm was visible to those on the street; the other part clung to the stonework on the inside of a railing circling the roof.

R. H. Lander, St. Louis County Farm Agent, said there was a possibility that the bees had swarmed from a hive on some city roof.

RETIREMENT PAY BILL PASSES

Wheeler Opposes, Vandenberg Approves Act for Justice Agents.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—After sharp debate the Senate today passed a bill to extend retirement privileges to officers and agents of the Bureau of Investigation. The voice vote came after Senator Wheeler (Dem., Montana), had asserted he saw "a tendency toward a national spy system like that of Russia" in the bill.

"While Government clerks occupy comfortable swivel chairs, these men who risk their lives for us are denied retirement," contended Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, author of the measure. Wheeler said that formerly, under the directorship of William J. Burns, the bureau included "crooks and grafters." He said that if "Congress doesn't stop appropriating millions of dollars to these men to spend in the underworld I'll have to investigate the Department of Justice again."

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—
The State WPA announced today
the standing of workers on its projects, receiving soldier bonus payments, would not be affected.
Workers receiving a bonus, Matthew S. Murray, State WPA Administrator, said, "will not be discharged."

POLICEMAN, THREE OTHERS KILLED IN ROAD ACCIDENTS

Probationary Motorcycle
Patrolman Retkowski Hits Light Post While Escorting Parade.

Four men were killed yesterday in traffic accidents in St. Louis and vicinity, one a motorcycle patrolman escorting a school children's parade.

The dead:
Probationary Motorcycle Patrolman Anthony Retkowski, 29 years old, 3719 North Twentieth street.

Steve Sloby, 25, 2068 Fourteenth street, Granite City.

Peter W. Guthrel, 51, 1181 Simmons avenue, Kirkwood.

Alonso Anderson, 68, 3709 La-Salle street.

Patrolman Retkowski was killed when he was thrown over the handlebars of his motorcycle, striking his head against a concrete light standard on Harney avenue, near Thrush avenue, about 4:10 p. m. yesterday.

He had speeded ahead of the procession of pupils who were publicizing a picnic of St. Engelbert's parochial school, to be held soon.
His motorcycle struck a depression in the street and careened to the curb. He died of fractured skull.
He lived at 3719 North Twentieth street. His wife survives.

Granite City Man Killed When Train Strikes Auto.

Sloby, a Granite City machinist, was killed early yesterday when the automobile he was driving was struck by an Alton & Southern freight train at a crossing at Levee, about one mile east of Granite City. His wife, Rose, suffered loss of the right ear and multiple fractures of the right leg. Mrs.
Frank Bukovak, Granite City, a passenger in Sloby's car, suffered only lacerations and bruises. The car was demolished.

Kirkwood WPA Worker Hit by Auto and Killed at 2 A. M.

Guthrel, a WPA worker of 1181 Simmons avenue, Kirkwood, was killed yesterday at about 2 a. m., when he was struck by an automobile, driven by David Walker, 400 Deer Creek Village, as he walked across Lindbergh boulevard near Huntleigh Village.

Guthrel had followed Deputy Sheriff A. H. Piotraschke across the highway to continue an argument after the Deputy had ordered him not to park at that point.
Guthrel had said he intended to hunt frogs, Piotraschke said.
"I told him it wouldn't be permitted," the Deputy reported, "and he kept getting tough about it. I got back in my car on the other side of the road and he started to come across, and the machine, going about 50 miles an hour, struck him." Walker said he failed to see Guthrel.

Car Forcing Truck on Right Side Passed Off Road; Man Killed.

Anderson, 3709 La Salle street, died early today of skull and internal injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which he was riding was forced off Highway 66 near Vandeventer road, south of Valley Park, by a truck which the driver of the car had tried to pass on the right hand side.

The driver, John Helms, laborer of Steelville, Mo., suffered punctures of the chest, and Mrs. Vada Anderson, wife of Alonso Anderson, suffered a head injury. Two other passengers, Helms' wife and Willie Bell of Dillard, Mo., escaped serious injury. The injured were taken to St. Louis County Hospital, where Anderson died.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Internally Hurt
When Hit by Truck.

Leo Feigenbutz Jr., 8 years old, suffered internal injuries and fractured right arm about noon today when he was struck by a truck driven by Neal Deadmon, Sandoval, Ill., as he ran across St. Clair avenue at Twenty-ninth street, East St.
Louis. Deamon told police the child ran directly in the path of the truck from behind another machine. The boy, who lives at 2924 Sommit avenue, East St. Louis, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where it was said his condition was serious.

Eugene Morgenthaler, 18, 5429 Al-gerton avenue, and his 3-year-old brother, John, suffered head injuries yesterday when the automobile driven by the elder brother collided with another in Rosalie avenue at Red Bud avenue. Robert 5 years old, a third brother in the Morgenthaler machine, suffered lacerations. The driver of the other machine, Leroy W. Mueller, 4682 Pope avenue, was uninjured.
Harold Hild Jr., 6, suffered a crushed hip yesterday when he was struck by an automobile as he ran across highway 40 in front of his home, 20 miles west of St. Charles.
Vernon Poertner, St. Charles, driver of the west-bound machine, said the child ran into its path. The boy was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, St. Charles, where it was said his condition was serious.

Three persons were seriously injured yesterday when a front tire of their automobile blew out on Highway 66 near Bonne Terre, Mo., and the car overturned in a ditch.

TWO KILLED, ONE HURT
IN FREIGHT YARD CRASH

Train Hits Switch Engine, Fireman Scalded to Death Near Granite City.

Two men were killed and one seriously injured when a Nickel Plate Railroad freight train collided with the rear end of a switch engine at 2:45 a. m. today in the Granite City yards, a mile east of Granite City.

Harry Van Tassel of Madison, 44-year-old fireman of the switch engine, was scalded to death by steam which formed when the locomotive overturned and water from the boiler flooded the firebox. William Bachman, 50, 821 Bremen avenue, St. Louis, switch engineer, checked at 2:35 p. m. today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City. He suffered lacerations of the face, body, arms and legs.

The fireman of the through freight, Joseph Lynch, Charleston, Ill., was taken to the hospital with chest and back injuries. William Galbraith of Charleston, the engineer, was unhurt.

The yard engine, pulling several cars, was backing eastward when struck by the westbound loaded freight train. The former was knocked from the tracks and demolished. The engine of the through train left the tracks but did not turn over. The two engines were reported to have been moving about 10 miles an hour.

Surviving Van Tassel are his wife and seven children ranging in age from 4 to 20.

Sikeston, Mo., a skull injury, and Benjamin Bowlds, laborer, 4652a
Page boulevard, the driver, a scalp wound. They were brought to City Hospital in St. Louis.

John Meyerper, tavern proprietor at 1159 South Kingshighway, was seriously injured yesterday near Poplar Bluff, Mo., when he lost control of his automobile as he was returning to St. Louis from a fishing trip. He was driving on Highway 67, and had swerved to avoid collision with another machine as it came out of a side road.

The body was found about three hours later by a night watchman.
The rifle was one which Burwell carried under the back seat of the car.

Boy Hurt by Batted Ball.

William Heinker Jr., 7 years old,
of 512 Talcott avenue, was struck on the head by a batted ball yesterday as he and his father were watching a baseball game in O'Fallon Park. The child was taken to Christian Hospital.

HORSE CHESTNUT TREE
DISEASE FOUND HERE

Fungus Causing Death Is Discovered but Has Not Been Identified.

Horse chestnut trees in and near St. Louis are being killed by a recently discovered, but still unidentified fungus. Thirteen of 36 trees found infected have died this spring in various places from Calvary Cemetery to Webster Groves.

The horse chestnut, admired for its luxuriant foliage and display of upstanding, candle-like white flowers, which give it the appearance of a huge Christmas tree when in bloom, is widely planted in city and county yards.

Dr. Leon R. Tehon, plant pathologist of the University of Illinois, who made an inspection of infected trees in St. Louis County yesterday, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he had examined specimens of the fungus taken from the bark of horse chestnuts here a week ago and identified them as similar to a fungus which attacked poplars, elm, and willows, but that its exact species was still unknown. It is definitely not the same fungus which in recent years has destroyed numerous chestnut trees. The chestnut and horse chestnut trees are different botanical species.

Seven other affected horse chestnut trees were reported to him three days ago in the Chicago district, Dr. Tehon said, but the extent of the area under the blight is not definitely known.

An infected tree first becomes noticeable by dead branches and de-foliation after fungus damage has been done. Close inspection dis-closes dark red globules, about the size of birdshot, or orange red, pulp streamers, less than a half-inch long, on the bark of branches and the trunk, indicating the advance of the fungus cycle, Dr.
Tehon explained. This external indication comes from the action of the fungus in distributing its spores through the pulpy streamer
by which the infection is spread.

Internally, the fungus makes its destructive advance beneath the bark by excreting a liquid which spreads to the surrounding area and kills the essential sapwood, through which the life-sustaining food of the tree is circulated. In the dead wood, the reproducing process of the fungus is carried on exuding the spore-bearing streamers through the bark.

In the absence of an eradicating agent for another blight, the Dutch elm disease, which gained wide prevalence before discovery in New Jersey and nearby states in 1933, the Federal Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine has been compelled to destroy thousands of elms, and the campaign still is being carried on.

PILOT UNHURT WHEN PLANE
CRASHES IN TEST FLIGHT

Willis L. Wells Stays With Ship, Lands in Vineyard East of Florissant.

Willis L. Wells, chief test pilot of the Curtiss-Wright Airplane Co., Lambert-St. Louis Field, escaped injury in a forced landing late Saturday in which a new type of low-wing monoplane he was testing crashed in a vineyard east of Florissant as the result of a structural mishap.

A piece of engine cowling was carried away when the craft was at an altitude of 3500 feet after coming out of a long power dive.
Gregory J. Brandewiede, vice-president of the company, said this section of material apparently blanketed the tail of the ship, throwing it out of control. Wells, who is 29 years old, a graduate of the naval flying school at Pensacola, Fla., managed partly to regain control near the ground.

The plane landed in the vineyard of Glen Hicks on Old Florissant road, ripping off about 50 metal posts. The propeller blades were bent, the leading edges of the low wings were dented, the tail assembly warped and the landing gear torn off. The arbor posts evidently helped slow the landing ship, contributing to Wells'

EASTMAN URGES NEW METHOD OF HANDLING FREIGHT

Proposes Standard Containers That Can Be Transferred From Truck to Train or Boat.

SAYS COSTS WOULD BE MUCH LESS

Shipments Would Reach Destination Without Re-loading Under Co-ordinated System.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Changes in the method of freight over rails, highways and water were advocated today by Joseph B. Eastman, Federal co-ordinator of transportation, in proposing a nationwide "container" system.

The "containers" would move freight of many types by bulk instead of separate pieces from point of origin to final destination. Eastman said they should be of standard size so they would fit into motor truck, railroad car and boat.

Savings of millions of dollars in handling and cartage charges would result, Eastman said. He presented a detailed survey to show that more than 100,000,000 tons of freight was available for the service, and said it also would develop much new business.

Gives Example.
As an example, Eastman said, a shipment of groceries from New York to Chicago now costs $5.60 a ton for handling, while under the "container" plan these costs would be less than $1.

He suggested that a "single company" be established to provide containers nationally and that it be free from Government regulation at the start "to afford an opportunity to private enterprise to show what it can do in the absence of Government interference."

Eastman said the idea was now used in a limited manner in some localities and industries, and had proved highly successful in several foreign countries for national and international freight.

Two Types of Container.
Two types of container were described in the report. One was a platform or rack on which goods could be stacked. The other was a box-like structure similar to the body of a large motor truck or of a small railroad box car.

These containers would be loaded at the point of shipment, then transferred by motor truck to railroad or boat, and finally delivered intact to destination.

Motor trucks would be used for short hauls and movements to railroads and water carriers, while the long haul business, which he considers the natural field for railroad and water transportation would be stimulated.

NEITHER CANDIDATE WORTH NICKEL, FATHER COUGHLIN SAYS

Asserts Election of a President Is Not as Important as Choosing Congressmen.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, June 15.—Father Charles E. Coughlin asserted last night the election of congressional members was the important feature of the forthcoming national election and beside that "neither of the presidential candidates is worth a nickel," not even "a plugged nickel."

He made his statement in an interview with newspaper men after he had said in a radio interview that he thought President Roosevelt would be re-elected, but that it would be the "last Democratic administration for some time."

Father Coughlin told newspaper men he would not make any statement now on his political platform, but that next Friday in New York he would deliver a radio speech which "would startle the nation."

In the radio interview Father Coughlin charged the Roosevelt administration with going "off the gold standard and onto the dole system."

He added that it did not follow that those on the dole would vote to uphold such a system.

Few Workers Return at Syracuse Remington-Rand Plant.

By the Associated Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 15.—Police and strike picket lines were withdrawn from the Remington-Rand Co.'s factory today, but only a few workers returned to their jobs.

Clair Bellows, one of the strike leaders, asserted it was a "victory" for the strikers, "because it shows just how many want to return to work here." Bellows said only eight went in.

Rail Detective Diveris Passenger, Engineer Stops Freight Within Few Inches of Two.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., June 15.—Police detained Chester Pearl, 22 years old, for psychopathic examination yesterday after a railroad detective reported that he had lain on a track twice in front of approaching locomotives, holding his 15-month-old nephew in his arms.

The detective said he first saw Pearl lying with the child in front of a passenger train. Kross threw a switch, diverting the train to another track. When Kross went to call police, Pearl again lay on the track, in front of a freight train, police said. The engineer stopped the locomotive, a few inches from Pearl and the child.

MAN WITH $11,000 PREFERS JAIL TO PAYMENT OF FINE

Chicago Police Say He Made Money by Offering Single Newspaper for Sale.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 15.—Isaac Hirsch, 62 years old, spent the week-end in jail rather than take $100 from his savings of $11,000 to pay a fine.

Hirsch said he came to Chicago from Nashville, Tenn., a week ago, following his usual practice of spending the summer in a cooler climate. He took a room where board and lodging cost 15 cents a day, and resumed what police said was his life work: tramping the streets clutching a single newspaper.

Passersby, the police said, usually gave him a nickel or more and told him to keep the paper, which contained a full account of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's first flight to Paris.

The policeman who picked Hirsch up on Friday found $4.99 in his pockets and a bankbook showing a $13,028 balance in a Nashville bank. Hirsch told the judge he had inherited the $13,028, but added: "I have $11,000 in another bank. I earned it selling papers."

STAB WOUND IN HEART FATAL

Piece of Knife Blade Had Been Removed in Operation.

Chester Sanders, Negro laborer, who underwent an unusual operation at City Hospital No. 2 last Wednesday, in which an inch of knife blade was taken from his heart, died yesterday.

Police said another Negro, Robert Smith, had admitted stabbing Sanders in front of their home at 2018 Carr street when Sanders, drunk, hit him as he was trying to persuade him to go into the house.

Painter Injured in Fall

Edward Nordick, a painter, of 2205A North Twenty-second street, fell 20 feet to the sidewalk from his second-story front window early today. He was taken to City Hospital suffering from head injuries.

PAPER 'STOOD IN WAY' OF POLITICIAN

Witness Says They Lay in Wait to 'Take Care of' Arthur Kingsley, But Finally Abandoned Plot.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., June 15.—Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion executioner, told from the witness stand today of signing with four other men a "blood pact" to kill Arthur L. Kingsley, Highland Park editor, who was fighting the terrorist organization in his community newspaper.

Dean was a witness at the preliminary examination of 11 men charged with conspiracy to murder Kingsley.

"We each cut our hands or arms and then Hepner (Roy Hepner, defendant who waived examination) gave us a match which we dipped into the blood and signed our names on a piece of paper," Dean testified.

"Hepner said Kingsley was to be 'taken care of' because he stood in the way of Markland's re-election." Dean referred to N. Ray Markland, who was defeated for re-election as Mayor of Highland Park, a suburb, in 1934 and who subsequently was on the staff of Prosecutor Duncan
C. McCrea until his suspension June 6. He is one of the defendants in the conspiracy case.

Signed in Fall of 1933.

Dean said the pact was signed in the fall of 1933. He named Hepner, Albert Schneider, Alvis Clark and Frank Rice, as being present.
All of them except Hepner were automobile factory employees.

The Common Pleas court room was packed as Dean testified. Two weeks ago at the examination of himself and 14 others on charges of murdering Charles A. Poole, he had volunteered the story of that killing.

The actual details of the plot against Kingsley were not discussed at the signing of the pact, Dean said, but on the way back "Colonel Hepner told us he would let us know what the plans were."

At a meeting in a fraternal hall a few days later, he testified, "Hepner called me over. Clark and Frye (Clarence C. Frye, another of the defendants) were with him.
He says 'you will take orders from these two men and myself and you are to do exactly what they tell you. If you don't do the job you are supposed to do they will take care of you.'"

'Job' Was to Kill Kingsley.

"What job were you supposed to do?" McCrea asked "Kill Arthur Kingsley," Dean replied.

Dean testified that earlier "two men handed me an automatic revolver. They told me Arthur Lupp (State commander of the Black Legion and one of the defendants) sent the gun to me to get Kingsley."

Dean told of lying in wait for Kingsley on several occasions but said the plot against the editor was abandoned after Markland's defeat at the polls.

In addition to Markland, the defendants in court were Lupp, Leslie J. Black, president of the Wolverine Republican League; Frye, Clark, Schneider and Rice, suspended automobile plant employees; Rudyark K. Wellman, garage operator; Sergt. Walter Pierce, Pontiac policeman, and Willard Foster and Frank F. Howard, suspended Highland Park fire department employees.

Dean's Story of Meeting.

Numerous meetings followed the signing of the oath, Dean said.

"At one of these meetings they were panning me," Dean testified,
"Lupp, Markland and Hepner were bawling me out for not killing Kingsley. Markland kept saying how important it was to get that guy."

Dean related that "Foster drove Howard and me to a restaurant to 'put the finger' on Kingsley for me.
He was seated two tables away.
'There's your man,' Howard said.
'Take a good look at him.'"

Dean said he went out "25 or 30 times to 'get' Kingsley," and that each time there were loud complaints at his lack of success in the murder mission.

In the fall of 1933, he said, two men came to his home and drove him to the police station in Pontiac.
There they met Pierce, he asserted, and learned he had been riding in Pierce's car.

"Pierce went away and Wellman picked me up later," he testified.
"Wellman said they had made a mistake. The fellow driving the car that picked me up at my home was supposed to take me over to Kingsley and I was supposed to 'get' him. Then they were to take me to Pierce at the police station for an alibi, but the driver balked up his orders."

MRS. ROOSEVELT GOES TO FARMERS' PICNIC

She Tramps Among Crowd at Grayville, Ill.; Hog-Calling New to Her.

By the Associated Press.

GRAYVILLE, Ill., June 15.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, braving sunburn and chiggers, took a miammoth four-county old-fashioned picnic basket in her stride today, laughing heartily at the hog-calling and tramping around through the crowd of several thousand to watch the log-chopping event.

Learning from her close friend and social secretary, Mrs. James M. Teim, whose guest she is, that Mrs. Roosevelt liked picnics, the farm folks of White, Wayne, Edwards and Wabash counties decided to "throw a picnic that was a humdinger," to quote a member of the Arrangements Committee.

"It certainly is a great picnic," commented Mrs. Roosevelt. It was the hog calling contest, "all new to me," that especially amused her.
Sitting on a large platform built for the occasion on the farm of Mr.
and Mrs. D. F. Frost, a mile north of Grayville, where the picnic was held, Mrs. Roosevelt laughingly applauded each attempt to call in the pigs.

Activities of 3-Day Visit.
She began the day by reviewing high school bands from Eldorado, Norris City, Aubin and Belmont and ladies carrying the National Youth Administration banner of Wayne County. She visited the Library and inspected a WPA sewing project. She is expected to visit Old Orient mine near West Frankfort early tomorrow. A reception will follow at Benton.

Mrs. Roosevelt left the President's party at Vincennes, Ind., yesterday for a three-day visit in this section.

Townfolk gathered in groups on the corners opposite Mrs. Helm's two-story white home. They watched Mrs. Roosevelt being greeted with baskets of pansies, her favorite flowers, offered her by 12-year-old Nell Frances Eastwood and 11-year-old Palmer Stanley.

Mrs. Roosevelt had but time to change to a blue dotted white satin suit before she was driven out to the 694th company camp, Grayville CCC. She ate luncheon there.

Through CCC Buildings.
Bouquets of blue larkspurs and sweet peas—picked in the camp's gardens and placed in glass fruit jars decorated the tables. Mrs.
Roosevelt and her party were escorted through the camp's 14 buildings by Capt. G. H. Reynolds of Grand Rapids, Mich., commanding officer, Lieut. J. F. Hudson of Neweague, Calif., B. C. Barron, the medical officer, and Joseph Calvin Sides of Columbia, Mo., the chaplain.

In late afternoon anyone who was a member or who had a friend who was a member of the American Legion and the Grayville Woman's Club filed through Mrs. Helm's home to shake Mrs. Roosevelt's hand and drink a glass of ice tea.
Those who couldn't qualify watched from lawns across the street.

19,800 COLLEGE GRADUATES THIS YEAR AIDED BY NYA

Director Williams Hopes Their Training Will Help Them Get Full-Time Jobs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—An estimate that one-eighth of this year's college graduates had part-time relief jobs was made today by the National Youth Administration.

"Because prospects for employment for this year's graduates are reported considerably higher than for those of the last five years, and because of the training received and scholastic records made by these 19-803 students who have received NYA aid," August Williams, director, added, "we are hopeful that they will soon have full-time jobs."

Williams estimated that college graduates this year would total 137,000. NYA paid undergraduates an average of $15 a month and graduate students from $25 to $30 for part-time jobs that enabled them to stay in college. A total of 138,645 college students have been partly supported by NYA during the last year.

7,363,000 IN NEW YORK CITY This Is Estimate by United States Bureau of Census.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The present population of New York City is estimated at 7,363,624 under a new system devised by the United States Bureau of Census.

The new figures and the system under which they were arrived at by statistical experts of the Bureau of Records are to be published in the Department of Health Quarterly bulletin. In former years, the increase has been estimated after the census of every 10 years by merely adding the average annual increase of the preceding 10 years.
This would give New York City a population of 7,722,712 today as compared with 6,962,305 in 1930.
But with immigration at a standstill and a sharp decline in birth rate, a new system was called for.
The United States Bureau of Census used the new method of estimating the national population as 127,521,000 last July 1.

Steel Company Employees Vote.
CLEVELAND, 15.—Employees of Republic Steel Corporation and subsidiaries, numbering 27,701, voted over the week-end to select 200 employees to represent them in collective bargaining, the company announced today. Ninety-five per cent of those eligible took part in secret balloting supervised by employees. Representatives were elected for one year to deal with the management concerning wages, hours and working conditions.

UNIONS VOTE DOWN BOYCOTT AGAINST 11 ON SCHOOL BOARD

Central Trades Body Refuses to Act
On Request of Teachers' Organization.

The Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday rejected, by a 2 to 1 standing vote, the proposal of the Teachers' Union of St. Louis and St. Louis County to institute a boycott against 11 of the 12 members of the Board of Education who have refused to repeal the dead-letter rule prohibiting teachers from belonging to labor unions.

The proposal for the boycott has been before the Central Trades for the last six months, but action on it had been deferred pending more debate and consideration. The motion yesterday was "to receive and file" the request, which kills it, temporarily at least.

William M. Brandt, secretary of the Central Trades, pointed out the body was unanimously on record for the repeal of the rule. He said that many of the members, however, especially those whose unions do business with the Board of Education, felt that the boycott was "going too far." "The board is still very friendly," he said, "to other labor organizations and we did not see fit to ruin the relations of these groups on account of this one."

The Teachers' Union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and has a delegate in the Central Trades. Because of the dead-letter rule, enacted during the World War, it has declined to make its list of members public.

Neighbor of D. McFarlan Moore, 67, Tells of Hearing Argument and Shots at 6 A. M.

By the Associated Press.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., June 15.—D. McFarlan Moore, 67 years old, electrical engineer and inventor, was found shot to death today after an early morning argument with a man who waited outside his Park avenue home.

Two bullets from a 22-caliber revolver were fired into Moore's head, the second at such close range it left powder marks.

Mrs. Mary W. Taber, a neighbor, told police she heard two men arguing in the rain about 6 a. m. She said she heard two shots, looked from her window and saw Moore's body lying on the lawn.

Moore, who lived with his daughter, Beatrice, had gone to the garage to get his car for a trip to Bethlehem, Pa., to attend the funeral of a relative, police learned.

Police found a knife, umbrella and jar of salad on the ground near the body. A deep footprint was discovered in a garden close by the garage.

Moore's daughter told detectives a man she did not know came to the house last night about 9 o'clock and asked to see her father. When told the inventor had retired for the night, he left without disclosing his identity or mission.

Moore, relatives and friends said, had more than 700 inventions to his credit, and 100 of them had been patented. For many years he was connected with the Thomas A. Edison Co. He later organized his own concern, the Moore Light Co. He retired two years ago.

After organizing the Moore Light and Moore Electric Companies, he sold his interests to the General Electric Co., serving until his recent retirement as manager of the Moore Light Department of General Electric.

He invented lamps essential to radio photographs in 1924, and in 1925 the first lamp used in transmitting radio motion pictures. He was the author of many scientific papers and tracts. He was a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society, the New York Electrical Society, Sons of the American Revolution and a fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

GOVERNMENT PUTS NEW INDUSTRIES IN PRISONS

Three Plants Added to Those Turning Out Products Used Only by Federal Bureaus.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Federal Prison Industries, Inc., a $4,000,000 Government corporation, is adding to its plant a clothing factory on Alcatraz Island, a homespun woolen industry at the El Reno (Ok.) Reformatory, and a chair factory at Chillicothe, O.

The organization already sells foundry work, garments, brushes, brooms, mattresses, metal transfer cases, shoes, textiles and other products to Government bureaus and departments. Only about 15 per cent of the Federal prisoners, however, are working in prison workshops, and their output—sold only to Government units—officials say, is less than 1 per cent of the Government's annual purchases.

Profits of the corporation go into a revolving fund, which provides money to build new shops and provide new work for convicts.

DEMOCRATIC WORKS PLANK

Said to Propose Program of Public Planning.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Democratic platform now being drafted will declare in favor of public works planning, the New York Times says in a Washington dispatch.

Democrats, under the leadership of Senator Wagner of New York, are drawing up a platform draft. The administration's farm, social security, stock market regulation and other operating programs, in the drafters' opinion, must be indorsed as a matter of course, according to the Times, but on certain controversial matters they are awaiting the return of President Roosevelt,

LIBERTY LEAGUE FEARS SOCIALIZED INDUSTRY

Says "Seizure of Private Power Markets" Indicates "What May Be Imminent."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The American Liberty League today struck at what it called Government seizure of "the market of the private electric power industry in many areas."

In a pamphlet condemning the New Deal's power policies, the league set forth that "Socialistic experimentation" had "run riot."

"The steps toward socialization of the electric power industry, already taken in an unbelievably short space of time," the pamphlet said, "bear witness to what may be imminent in other industries if present policies are continued."

"Threat Hangs Over Industry."

"The Government has seized the market of the private electric power industry in many areas. The threat of complete socialization hangs over the industry in practically all sections of the country."

The league denied that TVA deserved credit for "greatly increased" sales of electricity and appliances by private companies in the Tennessee Valley. The State of Georgia led states east of the Mississippi in home power consumption as early as 1932, it said, and the recent rise in appliance sales has been greater elsewhere than in the TVA area.

The administration's flood control and navigation improvement measures were described as "legal fictions" to disguise efforts to socialize the power industry.

"The TVA proposes in its program of reservoir construction to inundate permanently considerably more than twice as much land in the Tennessee Valley as ever has been affected by floods," the league said. "No important development of navigation is expected, and if it actually took place the chief effect would be to injure the railroads."

Lists 10 Activities.

The league listed 10 governmental activities, which it contended contribute "to the trend toward socialization." They included TVA, the Rural Electrification Administration, Federal grants for local power projects, and the proposed Mississippi Valley Authority.

The Mississippi Valley Authority bill, it declared, "affects one-third of the area of the United States and one-fourth of its population. It builds up a super-state with sovereignty superior to that of almost half the states of the union."

Many Government power projects were not formally authorized by Congress, the pamphlet said, asserting that they "have their foundation chiefly in administration policies rather than in the considered judgment of the legislative branch."

Famous-Barr Swimming Lessons.

Beginning June 22, Famous-Barr will offer a six-day course in swimming at the Forest Park Highlands pool to St. Louisans who register at the department store this week. There is no charge for registration and diplomas will be presented to all who learn to swim 55 feet or more in the six-day course.

Helen Stephens Again Lowers Record for 100 Meters

The Fulton "Flash" on Her Way to Another Sprint Record

NINE GIRLS QUALIFY FOR OLYMPIC FINAL TRIAL

By Reno Hahn

Helen Stephens, flying flash from Fulton, Mo., bettered all her own and the world's previous marks for 100 meters yesterday afternoon when she raced down the hard cinder track of Roosevelt High School Field in 11.3 seconds, winning by nearly four yards from May Brady and Harriett Bland, St. Louis runners, who finished in that order behind her. The accepted world's mark is 11.8 seconds, held by Stella Walsh, while Helen's American record, not yet accepted as a world's record, is 11.6 seconds. More than 3000 persons crowded on the field to watch the feature of the various events held as part of the Olympic tryouts for men and women.

In addition to the above three sprinters, Harriett La Mertha, winner of the 80-meter hurdles in 127 seconds; Jane Santachi, second, and Clara Ruth Harvey, third in the hurdles; Anna Vuolich, Wood River, Ill., only entrant in the javelin throw, and Loretta Murphy, only high jumper entered, and Emma Haupt, second in the discus, are the other members of the women's squad eligible to compete at Providence, R. I., July 4, in the final Olympic tryouts.

Most of the crowd was there to see Helen run, and it was well that they had come for that purpose only, for the other events on the program were so poorly conducted that few could tell who was running what, and even who won was difficult to discover. Several of the shorter races were held while long-distance events were being run, the sprinters hurrying through their race before the distance runners got around to their side of the track.

It Was Helen's Show. But the spectators, who swarmed over the track most of the time, didn't mind that. They were there to watch the outstanding prospect of the women's Olympic squad perform and she gave them a fine show.

The field of six was off to a perfect start and Helen, showing improvement over her first race here about 18 months ago, was off to a good lead with the first strides of her long, powerful legs.

Moving rhythmically, and unbeatably down the track, she added to her lead all the way, and even then she seemed to be "coasting" the last 10 or 15 yards of the race. The real battle was for second place, with May Brady taking the place position by a scant foot from Harriett Bland. Miss Brady has seldom beaten Miss Bland, but she is improving and not having as much experience as the red-headed Miss Bland, she may be expected to continue to win from her in the future. Incidentally, both Misses Bland and Brady probably ran the 100-meters in equal or better time than the world's record, for they were only a few strides back. They are almost sure to be given a place on the women's Olympic sprint squad, whether for the 100-meters or the 200-meters.

Four Watches Used. Helen was clocked by four timers, Charles Gevecker, President of the Oak A. A. U.; Ed Waite, Washington University sprinter; Harry La Mertha, a veteran track judge; and Burt Moore, coach of Miss Stephens. Three of the watches caught the Fulton flyer in 11.3 seconds, and the other had the time, a fraction under that mark.

The course was measured several times after the meet was over, but then it was so dark that the tape had to be looked at with a match. However, with a linen tape, the distance was judged to be 328 feet 3/4 inches, or three inches longer than a hundred meters, while later, with a steel tape, it was found to be nearly two feet short of 100 meters. In any case, her time is remarkable, whether it is credited as a record or not. The track will be measured again today with a steel tape by A. A. U. officials.

Helen also won the discus throw with a toss of 129 feet 5 inches but that mark is short of her best throw of 133 feet 6 1/2 inches, four and a half inches better than the world's record. She has been bothered by a strained tendon in her left leg which was injured in a recent workout. But her time in

Helen Stephens (on the right) finishing the 100-meter dash in 11.3 seconds, bettering the listed world's record of 11.8 seconds, held by Stella Walsh, in the regional Olympic tryouts at Roosevelt Field yesterday. Mae Brady (left) was second; Edna Gustafson, fourth, and Harriett Bland, third.

Browns Return Home An Improved Club, But Still in Cellar

By James M. Gould.

ENROUTE BOSTON TO ST. LOUIS, June 15.—Rained out three successive days in Boston, the Browns were on their way home to stay for 19 days and meet all the Eastern clubs, the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers. Philadelphia, first in, will open a series at Sportsman's Park tomorrow with Boston, Washington, New York, Cleveland and Detroit following in that order. It will be the longest home-stay the Browns have enjoyed thus far this season.

Winning nine of the 19 games played on the road for a percentage of .474, the Browns picked up 95 percentage points on the road. The tour started badly with series losses in Chicago and Cleveland. Then the club probably surprised themselves and certainly surprised the Tigers by winning all three in Detroit. Going into the East, where, on the first trip, they had failed to win a single game, the Browns won one of three in Washington, two of three in Philadelphia, one of two in New York and lost the only game played in Boston.

Postponements will make the next Eastern trip of the Browns an especially tough one, as, according to present schedules, they

Illinois Wesleyan Infielder Signs With Cardinals

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 15. O-CAPTAINS Ralph Goldsmith of Springfield and Theodore Read of Piper City, of the Illinois Wesleyan University baseball team announced yesterday that they had signed major league contracts. Goldsmith, third baseman, will join the St. Louis Cardinals, while Read, star southpaw, will be in Chicago Tuesday to cast his lot with the Boston Red Sox when Cronin's team opens a three-game series in Comiskey Park. Goldsmith hit .390 in 25 games this spring and has a four-year batting average above .300. He was a member of the all-American college nine that toured Japan and Hawaii last autumn. Read has been trained by major league scouts since his freshman season and has a record of 32 victories against six defeats for his four years of college ball.

Budge Advances In Queens Club Tennis Tournery

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 15.—Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., today advanced to the second round of the Queens Club tennis tournament at the expense of W. H. B. Michelson. He won at 6-4, 6-2.

Lucio Frivoldylo of Argentine defeated Jacques Vandeyden, Belgian Davis Cup player, 6-4, 6-4. Gene Mako of Los Angeles, conquered W. W. Robertson 6-3, 6-0 in a first round match.

David N. Jones, former Columbia player, defeated William Freisenbruch, 6-0, 6-3, in a third round match.

Hal Surface, Kansas City youngster, disposed of W. V. Pullin, 6-2, 6-1.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, June 15.—The Cleveland Indians yesterday acquired Bill Anderson, 19, of Boston, described by Scout George Uhle as a promising young pitcher. Uhle signed Anderson in Boston.

WRAY'S COLUMN

It Won't Be Long Now.

THAT Schmeling will prove to be a stumbling block in the path of Joe Louis, as Max, his trainer and a few supporters believe, is not making much impression on the experts, who are almost unanimously in favor of a Louis victory, via a knockout. The fans, however, are reserving judgment to some extent and there isn't much doubt that if the odds are tempting enough would take a flyer on the white boy next Thursday night. Can't blame them. Those reported odds of 10 to 1—if any—would get a little of our paycheck. The chances are Louis will not be much better than 2 to 5 at ring-side.

We read a headline: "Louis has licked everybody, nobody." Which means that nobody he licked amounted to anything. Still, nobodies were all he had to whip, unless you except the next heir-apparent to a beating—Max Schmeling. Oh yes, we mustn't forget Jim Braddock, the current world champion, who couldn't even win the light-heavyweight crown when he was at his best.

Pick up another paper and you read something like this: "Louis was a 1 to 15 favorite, to win, recently. Now he is only 1 to 5. The answer is simple: The promoters are bearing down trying to build up Schmeling."

The apparent reason for the belittling of Louis and the building up of Schmeling is that the million dollar gate is not going over with the bang that was expected.

What! No $1,000,000 Gate. A VERY well-posted fight man told this writer that he expected the gate to gross not more than $850,000, in spite of all the million plus talk.

There seems to be a very well-established view among the cash customers that Schmeling's record doesn't entitle him to much of a look in.

And, if there should be a diminished gate, connect it with the stiff price scale asked for this non-title bout and also the early announcement of a radio broadcast.

Many persons would prefer a good radio broadcast of a fight, to being pushed around and

WON 15, LOST 8, GAINED ON ALL CLUBS BUT CUBS; OPEN IN BOSTON TOMORROW

Redbirds Defeat Phillies, 12 to 10 in Final Game of Long Home Stand—Dizzy Dean in Rescue Role After Paul, Heusser and Walker Wobble — Visit Rochester Today.

By Herman Wecke.

Following a successful stand at Sportsman's Park during which the club gained ground on all flag contenders in the National League excepting the Cubs, Manager Frankie Frisch and his Gas House Gang will open their second Eastern invasion in Boston tomorrow. Today the Redbirds play an exhibition game at Rochester against the "farm" hands.

During the at-home stay the Cardinals played every team in the league and finished with a record of 15 victories against eight defeats, a winning percentage of .652.

The Gas House Gang gained the edge over six opponents, while the Giants gained an even break in four contests. Against the Cubs it was 2-1; Pirates, 3-2; Reds, 2-1; Dodgers, 2-1; Bees, 1-0, and Phillies, 3-1.

When the men of Frisch began their home stand on May 24 the team had a lead of one and one-half games over the Giants, then in second place. Now the Gas House Gang is three and one-half contests ahead of its nearest rival—the Cubs. However, the Bruins, finishing at Wrigley Field with 11 consecutive victories, won 16 and lost six for a winning percentage of .727 and as a result jumped from five games behind the Cardinals on May 24 to three and one-half battles, a gain of a game and a half.

Pirates Becoming Dangerous. Pittsburgh played almost even with the Birds, finishing with a 15-9 .642 percentage, but B.T. Terry's Giants slipped badly, playing at only a .500 pace with nine victories and a like number of defeats.

Thus the New Yorkers, who were but a game and a half out of first place on May 24, now trail the Gas House Gang by six contests. Starting the road trip against the Bees tomorrow, the Gas House Gang will oppose the Giants, Phillies, Dodgers, Pirates and Reds, before returning home on July 8 to tackle the Giants in the first series of another stand at Sportsman's Park.

Dizzy Dean proved the big star of the home stand. The ace right-hander, who now has a record of 12 victories against two defeats, won six of his last eight contests, beating the Giants twice in three days. Paul Dean has not reached top form and yesterday for Alvin (Jake) Powell, the Washington Senator's fly-chaser. Getting under the trading deadline by a day, the Yankees announced the deal yesterday as a straight player swap, figuring Powell's heavier-hitting and base-stealing prowess will more than make up for Chapman's throwing arm and speed.

For Chapman, the deal ends a six-year stretch as a Yankee regular, and sends him to the same field where back in 1933, he and two of his new teammates—Second Baseman Buddy Myer and Pitcher Earl Whitehill—once got into a fight that ended in a free-for-all and a call for police reserves to break it up.

Chapman has been dissatisfied over salary since before the start of the season. He was an extended holdout, finally signing up and only a few days before the season opened, for a contract believed to call for $10,000 and a bonus on batting performance.

He fell down in the latter, however, and is hitting only .266 to date, despite the revived keynote of batting might all down the league-leaders' lineup.

Powell is batting near the .300 mark, and is leading the league in stolen bases. He has been a Senator regular only over the last two years. A product of Washington sandlots, he has seen action in Southern, Eastern, Central, International and Mid-Atlantic leagues since 1930.

There were 30 hits in the game, the Cards getting 16 and the Phillies 14. Included in the safeties were five doubles, a triple and three home runs.

Paul Dean, making his first appearance on the hill since June 4, lasted until the third inning. Then Heusser came in. Heusser failed to fool the Phillie batter and was finally taken out in favor of Walker in the fifth. Walker did well until the eighth, when Cagelli hit a homer with Sullivan on first base to tie the score. After Wilson had doubled and Sheerin walked to start the ninth, none other than Dizzy Dean was brought in from the bullpen to quell the uprising and save the decision for the Gas House Gang.

Philis Use Three Hurlers. Syl Johnson and Orville Jorgens each lasted less than an inning. Young Passeur then went in and while he was batted freely he held his own until the last half of the eighth, when the Birds put over three runs to break the 9-4 tie on Moore's single, forced by Stuart Martin, Pepper Martin's triple.

CARDS NOW 8-TO-5 FAVORITE TO WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE FLAG

YANKEES MADE 6 TO 5 CHOICE FOR PENNANT IN THE AMERICAN

Red Sox Quoted at 8 to 5 and World Champion Tigers at 13 to 5—Pennant-Winning Cubs Held at 2 to 1.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, June 15.—With the pennant races one-third over, the New York Yankees today supplanted the Boston Red Sox as American League favorites at the shortening odds of 6 to 5, according to the revised book of Broadway Jack Doyle, commissioner who seldom has been wrong, and on most of those infrequent occasions quickly got right.

In his book, as it stands now, the world series will be a boisterous knockdown-and-drag-out between the throwbacks to the original "murderers row" and the rampaging Gas House Gang of St. Louis, which remains the National League choice at 8 to 5.

The acquisition yesterday of Jake Powell, Washington centerfielder, in exchange for Ben Chapman, long a Yankee regular, had nothing to do with the shift in odds favoring the Yanks.

The betting leaves the Red Sox second choice at 8 to 5, the injury-harassed Detroit Tigers a faint threat at 13 to 5 and Cleveland 3 to 1. Washington is 20 to 1, the Chicago White Sox 30 to 1, St. Louis Brown 50 to 1, and the Philadelphia Athletics 200 to 1.

Behind the Cards ranked at 8 to 5 in the National League, are the champion Chicago Cubs at 2 to 1, the New York Giants at 12 to 5, and the Pittsburgh Pirates at 15 to 1. Brooklyn is 20 to 1, Cincinnati 15 to 1, Philadelphia Phillies 100 to 1, and the Boston Bees at 200 to 1, if anybody wants them.

COCHRANE PERMITTED TO LISTEN TO RADIO

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, June 15.—Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers, had his "best day" yesterday since he entered Henry Ford Hospital for observation and rest.

His physician was out of the city, but an associate said it would be at least "several days" before the "tiger pilot" would be permitted to leave the hospital. Relief was expressed that an infected tooth, extracted Saturday, might have caused some of the nervous condition that was diagnosed originally as hyperthyroidism.

Treatment thus far has consisted almost entirely of rest and relaxation. Cochrane has been permitted neither to read newspapers nor listen to a radio. The latter rule was abrogated yesterday, and a radio receiving set was installed in his room.

Lovely Wins Casting Honors.

W. Lovely, Clem Martman and George Halbruger divided highest honors between them in the week-by-week casting of the Carondelet Park Fly and Bait Casting Club, at Carondelet Park last yesterday afternoon. Lovely won first place in the wet fly and 2-ounce plug accuracy contests and finished second in the dry fly and tied for second in the 2-ounce accuracy test.

Auto Race Postponed

LANGHORNE, Pa., June 15.—A wet track, caused by rain of the last two days, forced postponement of automobile races at Langhorne yesterday. The program will be held next Sunday.

SCHMELING PHYSICALLY FIT FOR LOUIS, DOCTOR FINDS

GERMAN WEIGHS 194 1-2 AFTER CAMP WORKOUT AGAINST MATES

Bomber Not Worried Over Amount of Bandage He Will Be Permitted to Use in Thursday's Fight.

By the Associated Press.
NAPANOCH, N. Y., June 15.—Regardless of all other angles, the doctor says Max Schmeling is ready for next Thursday's battle with Joe Louis at the Yankee Stadium.

Before yesterday's workout, Max was examined by Dr. William Walker, State Athletic Commission physician. His blood pressure was found to be 123 over 82. His pulse rate, 54 at normal, rose to 75 after exercise but returned to normal in 20 seconds. He weighed 194½ pounds, just a little over the weight he expects to reach Thursday.

"Physically he is in marvelous condition. I found him in better shape than for any of his other fights," was Dr. Walker's pronouncement.

Schmeling had a close call in yesterday's boxing session when he bumped heads with Mickey McAvoy, a sparring mate, and raised a "mouse" over his right eye. The slight damage quickly responded to treatment.

Louis Is Not Working.
By the Associated Press.
LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 15.—To Joe Louis all the hullabaloo Joe Jacobs, Max Schmeling's manager, has been raising over the amount of bandage and tape the Brown Bomber will be allowed to use on his hands when he clashes with Schmeling Thursday is just so much noise.

Advised that Jacobs, who had previously said he would like to have the bandages adjusted after the fighters enter the ring, intended to take up the matter of the amounts used, Louis indicated it didn't make any difference to him.

"The commission allows me only six feet of bandage and two feet of tape. That's all I had on in the Baer fight and my hands were swollen afterward," he said. "Maybe they ought to let me use more. But why all the yelling? I'll fight bare handed if they like that."

After "battering" his opponents around again before the Sunday crowd, Louis planned to rest today. Tomorrow he is slated for a final workout, including some boxing.

DR. WEISS ADVANCES IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Dr. William Weiss, father of Missouri tennis champion, District woman tennis champion, defeated William Jaffke, in the feature of the second round matches in the annual Magnolia Tennis Club championship yesterday. The match required the limit of three sets with Dr. Weiss winning 6-7, 3-6, 6-4.

The third-round matches will be played on July 11. Results of other second-round contests were as follows: Dr. Arthur Fries defeated Eugene Kane, 6-0, 6-2; Eugene Weber defeated William Roth, 6-2, 6-3; Mack Wilson defeated Walter Allen, 6-2, 6-2; Carl Weber defeated Ferd Meiner, 6-2, 6-1; Sylvester Appelbaum defeated Edward Oswald, 7-5, 4-0, default; Joe Yoch defeated Emmett Adels, 6-3, 6-3.

McMILLAN OVERCOMES BIG HANDICAP TO WIN TRIPLE A NET MATCH

Spotting his opponent 30-love in each game and an additional 15 points in each third game, Charles McMILLAN worked hard to defeat Harry Steeb, 7-5, 8-6, in one of the feature matches of Triple A Club's handicap tennis tournament, yesterday.

Other results: Robert Huelstick defeated William Garesche, 6-4, 6-3; Robert Weinstein won from A. B. Joseph, by default; George Prehutzky won from Sidney Maestre by default.

IT'S MARTIN HERE AND MARTIN THERE—and "Stu" Was Safe Both Times

Stuart Martin, the Cardinals' brilliant young second baseman, sensation of their recent long home stand, is shown (left) sliding, hook style, into third base on Pepper Martin's single in the first inning of yesterday's game at Sportsman's Park. Whitney is covering the bag, and the umpire is Sears. At the right, "Stu" chooses the hands first slide to beat the throw to third as he completes a double steal with Pepper Martin. "Pep" landed safely on second.

double by Medwick and single by Mize.

RED BIRD NOTES

There were some sparkling fielding plays in the game, but the finest of the lot came in the eighth, when Terry Moore, playing well over towards right, ran far into left center for Klein's smash to take a three-base hit from the Phillies slugger. It not only robbed Klein of a hit, but the Phils of an extra run.

Camilli ran far toward second to snare Medwick's smash with his glove-hand in the fourth and toss to Norris in time to force Pepper Martin in the fourth.

The attendance was announced as 10,200.

Passes to Klein and Camilli and a single by Whitney gave the Phils a run in the first, while in the third, Sulik doubled, Klein walked and Camilli singled and Heusser came in. Before he retired, the side, Whitney doubled and Norris and Grace singled to give the men of Wilson four tallies.

"Chuck" Can Sock 'Em.
Klein hit a homer in the fourth, while in the fifth, Gomez walked and was forced by Passeau. Chiozz singled and Walker came in. Passeau scored on a fielder's choice. In the eighth, Sulik's single and Camilli's homer netted the final enemy runs.

In the Redbird first, Stu Martin was hit, J. Martin singled, Medwick doubled, Collins walked, Davis was purposely passed and Gelbert singled for four runs. Against Jorgens in the second, Moore, Stu Martin and Pepper Martin singled. The two Martins pulled a double steal, Medwick flied out and Davis singled to add three more to the Gas House Gang's total.

Pepper, Ducky and Ripper.
That was all until the fourth, when Pepper Martin singled and was forced by Medwick and Ripper. Collins hit his seventh home run of the season, a drive on top of the right-field pavilion.

Getting Nowhere Fast.

BABE DIDRIKSON, once in Babe headlines but for some time almost forgotten, broke in again to her sorrow. This time the news related that she was quickly eliminated in an open golf tournament wherein she was the only professional. The Babe hardly got past first base, against amateur rivals.

Nor has she advanced very far with her effort to capitalize her 1932 Olympic prestige. She made money for a few months—not so much, expenses considered. Then the bottom dropped out of her drawing power. Today there is hardly a person outside of her own community who would pay a dime to see the Babe do anything.

TWO PLAYERS OUT WITH KNEE INJURIES

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—A stretch drive for first-half honors in the Western Association had all but simmered down to Joplin and Springfield today.

Still going the "whole hog" route, both outfits swept their Sunday doubleheaders, the Miners disposing of Hutchinson, 7-3 and 8-4, while the Cardinals dropped Bartlesville, 7-2 and 13-11.

Hutchinson, in third place, was five games behind Joplin, while Springfield lagged only two away. Muskogee, showing signs of shaking a persistent jinx, gave the suffering Ponca City Angels a double lacing, 7-3 and 4-2, dimming the Ponca's prospects of getting back into the pennant fight.

Further, the Angels start a new series with Joplin tonight, with fresh thoughts of their five-game fiasco at Joplin.

By coincidence yesterday two third basemen went out with knee injuries. The victims were Brown, the Springfield manager, and Lang of Ponca City.

Brownies Return Home an Improved Club, Still Last

will have five doubleheaders in a row, three in Boston and two in New York. That is cruelly to any pitching staff however good.

Most of the play of the Browns on this grand tour has been good but infrequent poor pitching and even rarer slipshod fielding cost them several games they might well have won. Still, when they left they were hopelessly in the cellar and, as things are now, a clean sweep of the first home series with the Mackmen, will lift them out of eighth place.

Player Deals Hang Fire.

Expected trades—they seemed certain when the team left home—did not develop. New York and Boston were decidedly interested in Jack Knott but apparently not enough to make them pay the price asked. Then, the Tigers were hot after Rolfe Hemsley but their offer was turned down and, later, Hemsley went out of action with a split finger.

Now, the Browns are on a train with the time for trades expiring tonight at midnight. A deal, while still possible after the club arrives in St. Louis, does not seem at all probable.

As far as the pitching goes, the work of Chief Elton Hogsett and Earl Caldwell featured the trip. Hogsett started in four games and won his last three. In the first, he was relieved and the victory went to another. Hogsett defeated Cleveland, Washington and New York while Caldwell blanked the Tigers and easily defeated the Athletics.

The other double winner was Tietje, credited with the game Hogsett relieved against Detroit and a full-timer in Philadelphia.

The club's attack, pretty strong all season, subsided somewhat with such players as Solters and West failing to come out of a long slump. Solters never did get going though West toward the end, showed improvement. Bell kept up his end and there were sporadic outbreaks of batting by Cliff, Bottomley, Hemsley and Carey.

Club Strong Enough to Climb.

The attendance in Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, Philadelphia and New York was only fair and Boston, in the single game, no better, but, in two days at Detroit, the club played to more than 55,000 with Memorial day crowd of 39,500 as the high spot.

From their road record, the Browns seem strong enough not only to get out of the cellar, but they behave as they did in the last half of the 1935 season, strong enough to climb to the top of the second division.

Bottomley and Hemsley both have been injured but Bottomley surely will be able to play tomorrow against Philadelphia and it should be only a very few days before Hemsley gets back in harness.

Hornsby maintained stern discipline on the trip—too stern, some of the players feel. Card playing of all kinds was put on the verboten list after the club left Cleveland. This didn't set very well but there was no open outbreak. Just mutterings of discontent which are none too good for the morale of a ball-club, especially one that has spent all season in the cellar.

GOLFERS BEGIN PLAY IN 54-HOLE EVENT

By the Associated Press.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 15.—Leading Central New York golf professionals and a fair smattering of the big-time money winners will tee off today for the seventh annual 54-hole Drumlins Open and a share in the $1000 prize money.

Heading the entry list are Gene Kunes, Norristown, Pa., Canadian Open champion; Craig Wood, Deal, N. J., who ran off with $1000 top money in the General Brock Open at Fonthill, Can., and Ray Mangrum, Dayton (O.) pro.

Others include Ralph Guldhall, formerly of St. Louis, fourth place winner at Fonthill, and Clarence Doser of Rochester.

The program calls for 18 holes today and 36 tomorrow.

Doser won in 1934 and Augie Nordone of Lafayette last year.

DECATUR, Ill., June 15.—"Light-horse" Harry Cooper, Illinois open golf champion for the past three years, will set out in pursuit of his fourth title today at the Decatur Country Club, with one of the hottest fields in the five-year history of the event in pursuit.

Indications were that more than 75 professionals and amateurs would tee off this afternoon in the 36-hole medal play event. Among the leading professional entries scheduled to dispute Cooper's monopoly of the championship were Johnny Revolta, Western open titleholder; Horton Smith, No. 1 man in the Augusta Master's meet; Jimmy Thomson, Zell Eaton, Tommy Armour, Johnny Bullard, Jack Hutchinson and Abe and Al Espinosa.

Jock Hutchinson was among those giving the 6500-yard sunbaked layout a preliminary test yesterday, but did not post his card.

The course record of 69 off the par 72 journey was apparently doomed for replacement. Closely bounded fairways place a premium on accurate driving, but the hard-packed earth was calculated to give a 30-yard roll to accurate tee shots.

Following the conclusion of the open, an 18-hole best ball pro-amateur event was scheduled. Wednesday the amateurs will play 36 holes of qualifying test and then revert to three days of match play for the Illinois amateur crown.

Gus Moreland, veteran Peoria tournament player, was the only amateur conceded a chance to give the pros a scramble for the open title. A purse of $1000 has been posted for the pros, with $400 top money.

Among late entries received was that of Alex Ayton, St. Louis Country Club pro, formerly of Springfield.

MAC SMITH IS ELIMINATED IN CLAY COURTS TENNIS EVENT

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, who held the title in 1933, was scheduled to start after his second national clay courts singles tennis championship at the River Forest Club today.

Parker, top seeded star, is a strong favorite to reach the finals in the meet which opened Saturday. The champion last year, Bryan (Betsy) Grant, is in England with the American Davis Cup team.

Seeded players who won matches yesterday were Gene Smith, Berkeley, Cal.; Eugene McAlliffe of New York, Charles Carr of the University of Southern California, Gardner Mulloy of Miami (Fla.) University and Guy Cheng of China, a student at Tulane University.

Gene Smith, who beat George Sullivan of Chicago in the opening round Saturday, disposed of John James of Oak Park, Ill., 6-3, 6-4. James had won his first round match. Eugene McAlliffe, New York City, also victorious in his first round test, came through with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Clayton Olson of Chicago. Smith is seeded No. 11 and McAlliffe No. 14.

Charles Carr of the University of Southern California, seeded tenth, defeated Lee Kulp of Chicago, 6-3, 6-1, while the ninth seeded player, Gardner Mulloy of Miami (Fla.) University whipped Jack Bartlett of Northwestern University, 6-1, 6-1. The No. 1 seeded foreign star, Guy Cheng of China, a student at Tulane University, impressively eliminated Donald Jeffery of the University of California, 6-0, 6-0.

Norbert Burgess of River Forest defeated MacNeil Smith, East St. Louis player, 6-3, 6-3.

BATTING RALLY BY ALLEN AND MEDWICK WINS CRICKET MATCH

A rally by Dorsey Allen and Lee Medwick drove in the winning runs for Forest Park Cricket Club in their match at Forest Park yesterday with Sherwood Club. The latter team was leading when Allen and Medwick went to bat and they turned the tide. Final score was 87 to 72.

C. F. Cummins and J. C. Fenton were prominent batsmen for Sherwood and Frank Saunders had 25, not out. Best bowler was W. H. Fowler, who toppled six wickets.

THREE TEAMS ARE UNDEFEATED IN TWO YEARS

KELOGG TEAM WINS ITS 27TH STRAIGHT GAME IN TWO YEARS

Smiths and General Autos Hang Up Seventh Consecutive Victories to Retain Division Leads.

Several teams continued undefeated in the Municipal Baseball Association play as another week of play was written into the second with Sunday's games, the Kellogg's in the Mid-City League, Jay B. Smiths, Empire and General Auto in Triangle each winning its seventh consecutive game.

It was the twenty-seventh straight victory for the Kellogg's who last year, playing as the Weston Leaguers, won 20 games in league play before entering the eliminations where they won the city title although losing one of the final games.

The Kellogg's took a doubleheader from the Union Electric team, 3-2 and 7-2. Tommy Shannon pitching a four-hit game in the opener, and Fannemyer allowing five in the second.

The J. B. Smiths also took two games, defeating the K. & A. squad, 8-4 and 8-0. McKenzie allowed eight hits in the second contest, but scattered them during the nine innings.

The General Auto team relied on its bats to take its seventh, clubbing out a 13-7 victory over the Club Buffet.

The Ivanhoe Indians joined the other two teams who have had the thrill of turning in a triple play this season as they split their doubleheader with the Spuds, winning 7-0 and losing 9-6. Antoine, second baseman, caught a line drive, stepped on second, and threw to first for the triple killing.

BROOKLYN GERMANS WIN U. S. AMATEUR SOCCER TITLE

BEAT SHANNON OF PITTSBURGH 2 GOALS TO 1 IN OVERTIME

Eastern Champions Had Eliminated Philadelphia
Germans, Victors Over Shamrocks in National Open Competition.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 15.—For the first time in the 13 years the cup has been in competition, the national amateur soccer championship trophy is today the possession of a Brooklyn (N. Y.) club. Extra periods were necessary in yesterday's national amateur final to break a tie between the German Sports Club of Brooklyn, Eastern champions, and Castle Shannon of Pittsburgh, Western division winners, Brooklyn finally getting the decision, 2 to 1.

The triumph followed right on the heels of a great victory last Sunday achieved over the National Open champions, the Philadelphia Germans, twice winners of amateur honors. The team from Western Pennsylvania, successful a year ago, succumbed yesterday only after the stoutest resistance.

The first half hour saw the Shamrocks at their best and after two corners to Brooklyn's one, Misgalla drove in the opener from a pass by Mitchell as the home defense crumbled. The ex-champions came close to shooting another from a flag kick. This danger past, Grosser rushed in and headed in the equalizer one minute from half time.

In the second half, the Brooklyn Germans started in with three corners in quick succession but no goals. However, after three minutes of play in the first of the extra periods, Grosser went through for both of the winners' goals, and Steve Misgalla, the Pittsburgh inside right, performed a like service for the losers.

THREE WORLD MARKS FAIL IN SWIM MEET
By the Associated Press.
ALMIRA, Wash., June 15.—Three world records fell yesterday before the assault on Jack Medina and the Washington Athletic Club women's relay team on Blue Lake near here. Medina broke the 500-yard and 800-meter free-style marks. The women's relay team—Betty Lee, Doris Buckley, Mary Lou Petty and Olive McKean—cracked the 400-yard free-style mark. Coach Ray Daugherty, the American Olympics team mentor, said the A. A. U. will be asked to approve the marks.

SETS NEW SWIM MARK
By the Associated Press.
CLEMENTON, N. J., June 15.—Dorothy Forbes, 16, of Camden, established a new world record for the 50-yard backstroke yesterday at Clementon Park Lake. Striking over the "long course" in the open race for women, Miss Forbes led Dorothy Campbell by three feet in 32.8 seconds. She smashed the year-old mark of Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett by two-tenths of a second. Mrs. Jarrett did the 50-yard in 33 seconds flat on Jan. 1, 1935, at Coral Gables, Fla.

A Southpaw, But on the Other Hand—

Al Manfredo, coast welterweight, found that, as a left-hander, it was difficult to get matches, so he became a right-hander, and has made a sensational record. He will test Fritz Zivic in a bout on Wednesday night's card at the Auditorium.

SHUCCO FIGHT WILL BE THIRD FOR LEWIS IN LAST 10 DAYS

John Henry Lewis, world's light-heavyweight boxing champion, who has made it a practice since he won the title from Bob Olin here last Oct. 31 of taking on an opponent on an average of every 14 days, arrived in St. Louis at noon yesterday and limbered up at the West End Gymnasium. He will do some light boxing this afternoon at the same place in preparation for his 10-round bout with Tony Shucco at the Auditorium Wednesday night.

When he gained a technical knockout over Dutch Weimer of Oakland, Cal., in the fifth round of their bout at York, Pa., last Friday night, Lewis entered in his eleventh bout this year, in a space of less than six months. He came here directly from York and went from the railroad station to the gymnasium to climb right back into his ring togs and work out, punching both the heavy and the light bag.

In fighting here Wednesday night Lewis will have engaged three opponents in the space of 10 days, for he won a bout from John Anderson a week ago tonight.

Trainer Frank Sutton is with Lewis here, while Gus Greenlee, the champion's manager, attends a meeting of the New York Athletic Commission tomorrow when an effort will be made to have Lewis matched with Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock late this summer. Lewis weighed 179 pounds yesterday, but his camp believes he can be built up to 185 to 190 pounds for a Braddock bout.

Shucco also worked out yesterday at the Business Men's Gymnasium, and will be at it again today. Al Manfredo, Pacific Coast welterweight, has been here for several days preparing for his bout with Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh, and the latter is due today. Joe Alcantar of Kansas City has also notified the promoters, Benny Greenberg and George Raymond, that he will be here today to finish his training for his State title bout with Joe Ghoully.

Milwaukee and Kansas City in Tie for the Lead

Lash's Record Performance For Two Miles Boosts U. S. Stock for Olympic Games Race

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 15.—Amid the rapidly accumulating evidence that Uncle Sam's athletes will set a dizzy pace for all rivals in the Berlin Olympics, Don Lash's world record-smashing two miles stood forth today as not only the year's greatest foot-racing performance, but one of the most remarkable of all time.

The 22-year-old Indiana collegian not only surpassed one of the great Paavo Nurmi's supposedly impregnable marks by running the distance in 8 minutes, 55.3 seconds on Princeton's rain-swept track last Saturday, but he became the first American ever to gain world renown over the two-mile route.

For the first time in foot-racing history, the United States now can claim all world records for the standard linear-measured events ranging from 100 yards to two miles, with Lash joining the record-cracking company of Frank Wykoff and Jesse Owens in the sprints, Ben Eastman at the 440 and 880 yard distances, and Glenn Cunningham in the mile.

Simultaneously, Lash's victory projected America's hopes of conquests, for the first time, in the Olympic 5000 meters, an event in which Finland's supremacy has long been asserted. Four years ago a lanky Oregonian, Ralph Hill, came within a stride of carrying America's triumph, at Los Angeles. Lash, on the basis of his electrifying development under the coaching of E. C. (Billy) Hayes, appears thoroughly capable of picking up where Hill left off and showing his heels to the world's best distance runners this August.

No American ever before had beaten 9:10 on an outdoor track for two miles until Lash thundered with amazing speed on a thoroughly drenched track in Princeton's third annual invitation meet. The best any of our runners had achieved indoors was

RIGGS UPSETS HINES, GAINS VALLEY TITLE

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 15.—Young Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles was the whole show in the Missouri Valley tennis tournament here yesterday as he blasted through Wilmer Hines to add the men's singles championship to the junior title he won last Friday.

The 18-year-old Californian, national Junior singles champion, had little difficulty in conquering Hines, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1. Hot weather apparently affected the game of Hines, who was the top-seeded player in the tournament.

Riggs gained a third tournament title in the men's doubles championship. He and Wayne Sabin, Los Angeles, continued the California victory march with a straight set victory over Hines and Bunty Lawrence, winning the doubles title, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6.

The final round in the women's singles was a walkaway for Mrs. Mary Greer Harris of Kansas City who allowed her opponent, Helen Gruchella of Jamestown, N. D., only seven points in the entire match. Mrs. Harris, playing at top form, won 6-0, 6-0.

Owens' latest quadruple triumph, in the Ohio State-Southern California dual meet, including a record-equalling 100 yards in 9.4 seconds. Trojan Roy Staley's record—beating 14.1 seconds for the 120 yards high hurdles in the same meet; Ben Eastman's 800 meters in 1:30.5 at Palo Alto; Gene Vanau's first outdoor triumph over Glenn Cunningham in the Princeton mile, timed in 4:13.4; and American-record-excelling javelin feats by the veteran Lee Bartlett, with a throw of 223 feet, 7 inches, at Grand Rapids, Mich., and by Bob Parke of Oregon, with 222 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

All Cub Hurlers Have Gone Route In Club's 11-Game Winning Streak

By the Associated Press.
When batting might hooks up with pitching strength on the same baseball combination, fireworks are the general result.

That's the answer to the current pell-mell parade of those climbing Chicago Cubs, now riding high, wide and handsome on top of an 11-game winning streak, longest run in the big leagues this season.

It wasn't only that they suddenly came to life at the plate, or on the mound. But when they hit both at the same time—the resultant explosion is no more than can be expected.

For two weeks now, day in and day out, they've had the two, particularly a brand of pitching that's hard to beat. In 11 straight games, averaging slightly over 11 a game, That tells the story.

The big question mark now is: Can they continue, away from Wrigley Field, as they've done at home? They start the Eastern swing tomorrow, and thereby probably hangs their hope for catching up with the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals by July 4.

The long successful home stand ended yesterday with Frank Demaree's two homers accounting for all the runs as the Boston Bees fell 3-2 and Lon Warneke chalked up his third win of the victory streak, his second straight seven-hitter in five days.

The New York Giants snapped their five-game losing streak and the Bucc's seven-straight winning run at the same time, with Hal Schumacher turning in a five-hit performance for an 8-0 edge. Wind-up by the league program, the Cincinnati Reds climbed to a .500 average for the campaign by trimming the Dodgers, 5-1, on the strength of Lee Stine's four-hit hurling job.

The American League saw the Athletics knock the Indians into fourth place with an 8-6 victory, advancing Detroit to third, while Vernon Kennedy's tight pitching gave the White Sox a 6-4 margin over the Senators.

Clayton Men's Tennis Tourney Opens Saturday

The fifth annual Clayton open tennis championship for men will begin next Saturday afternoon on the Clayton Municipal courts at Price and Ladue roads. First-round matches in the singles are scheduled for the opening day, followed by the initial round in the men's doubles on Sunday.

Gus Boehmer, formerly St. Louis University player, won the singles title last year and will probably defend it this year. Karl Kammann and Charles Barnes, are expected to defend their doubles honors.

The Clayton open was established in 1932 when the City of Clayton took over the five courts formerly used by the Forest Hills Tennis Clubs since disbanded. Five additional courts were added in 1934.

Boehmer captured the first men's singles title and successfully defended it in 1933. Charles McMillin captured the honors in 1934 after Boehmer lost to Herbert Weinstein in the quarter-finals. In winning last year Boehmer took permanent possession of the D. P. Richards trophy.

Monroe "Fog" Lewis will again serve as tournament chairman this year. Russell Hadden will be the official referee. Players may enter the tournament at local sporting goods stores or may mail their entries to the St. Louis District Tennis Association, 622 Boatmen's Bank Bldg. The entry is $1.50 in singles and $2.50 a team in doubles. Entries will close Friday at 4 p. m.

CUBS HELD OPPONENTS TO 14 RUNS IN WINNING SEVEN GAMES IN A ROW DURING PAST WEEK

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Chicago Cubs, in a pell-mell dash after the Gas House Gang from St. Louis in defense of their National League pennant, overshadowed every other club in the big leagues during the past week with their all-victory run.

Carrying their winning streak over from the week previous, the champs won seven straight during the seven-day span ending yesterday, bringing the stretch to 11, for the best record in the big-time during the period, and the longest undefeated string of the season.

A combination of offense and defensive strength, including batting prowess and tight pitching, particularly the latter, accounted for the remarkable record. Every hurler went the route during the week, while the Cub batsmen collected a total of 68 hits, a mark which was outdone by only two other clubs in both leagues.

In addition, they paced all other teams in run-scoring, with 46 tallies going across the plate, meanwhile holding their opposition to 14 runs, lowest of any club for the week.

The Pittsburgh Pirates kept step with the Cardinal win streak for the week until today, when the faltering New York Giants snapped it by a five-game losing streak to end the Bucs' run of six for the period.

In the American League, meantime, the leading Yankees, hotly pursued by Tom Yawkey's Gold Sox from Boston, led the way with three wins in four starts, three of their scheduled games being rained out. Next in line were the somewhat surprising Athletics, who lost but two and won four.

Although the poorest record for the week was turned in by the Boston Bees, in getting kicked around five times in as many times out, the most disappointing showing was that of the Giants, who ended one of the most disastrous western trips in years by dropping four in a row before snapping up the finale with the Pirates.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press.
FRANK DEMAREE, Cubs—Batted in all runs with two homers in 3-1 win over Bees.

HAL SCHUMACHER, Giants—Pitched five-hit ball to end Pirates' seven-game winning streak.

BOB JOHNSON, Athletics—Hit homer with bases loaded as Indians were defeated, 8-6.

LEE STINE, Reds—Limited Brooklyn to four hits for 5-1 win.

DIZZY DEAN, Cardinals—Stopped Phillies in relief pitching assignment with only 24 hours rest.

MIKE KREEVICH, White Sox—Hit triple and two singles, driving in two runs, in 6-4 victory over Senators.

MERCEINA WEISS TO PLAY IN NET EVENT

Merceina Weiss, St. Louis district woman tennis champion, departed last night for Palmsville, O., to compete in the annual invitation tennis tournament conducted by Mary K. Browne, former national champion. The tournament will be played on the Lake Erie College courts, starting Wednesday.

In addition to participating in the women's singles Miss Weiss will pair in the doubles with Clara Davis of Oak Park, Ill. This team will defend the doubles title which they won last year.

English Soccer Team's Double Defeat in Europe Causes Storm

There was a time when British soccer players had things their own way as far as international competition is concerned. A defeat of an English club touring on the Continent was usually dismissed as something of a fluke, or perhaps the result in a breach of training rules by the tourists. Not so these days.

Recently England's representative team visited Brussels and Vienna and, to the great discomfiture of London football fans, lost both games. At least, some qualified football experts are inclined to accept the result as an indication that English teams no longer exercise a measurable degree of superiority over the leading European clubs. One of England's severe critics in this case is a former English League club manager, now coaching on the Continent. Excerpts from his letter to a London newspaper follow:

"So you don't consider our defeats on the Continent a blow to our prestige, eh?"

"To get to know the effect, you should go and live for a while in a country where we have just been defeated."

"The only excuse England can offer for her defeat is that the Austrians and Belgians—certainly the Austrians are better footballers than we are."

"They have us skinned to death in positional play, because they practice it every day of the week. Backs, forwards and halfbacks are continually running into open spaces, even if the ball never comes back."

"The man in possession picks the position he will take up before he parts with the ball. When an English player makes a good pass he stands still and admires his beautiful work!"

"In the football sense, we are a swollen-headed race, although there is dashed little to be swollen-headed about."

The London editor commented as follows:

"There can be no denying there is much truth in what this ex-manager says. But I still stick to two points I made a week ago."

"One was that it is foolhardy to conduct these tours at the end of a long and strenuous English season, and we have got to allow for the tremendous improvement which has taken place in the play of the foreigner as a result of the great work of English coaches."

"In addition, we cannot hide the fact that the standard of play among our own players has gone back alarmingly because speed and vigor are now the chief characteristics of the game."

"At the present time we are not only losing matches to our pupils, the continentals—they are now teaching us how the game should be played."

Harrell Is Wild But Rochester Beats Albany 3-2
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 15.—Profiting by rainy weather instead of the expected cut-throat battle between the two rivals for the International League lead, Newark and Buffalo, the Rochester Red Wings and Baltimore Orioles were beginning to assume a distinctly threatening attitude today.

While the Bison-Bear doubleheader, slated to open an all-important series in which the lead is at stake, was washed out yesterday, Rochester won one game and Baltimore two. As a result the Red Wings today were only five games behind Newark's league leaders and two behind Buffalo, while Baltimore's Orioles were only a half game further behind.

The Red Wings had a close call at Albany when they barely nosed out the seventh-place Senators, 3 to 2. Although Ray Harrell fanned six, he was wild and pitched home run balls to Jack Pearson and Smead Jolley. The game wasn't decided until the ninth, despite the constant Rochester pounding of Tomas de la Cruz. Finally Pearson smeared up a chance and Phil Weintraub smacked a double for his fourth hit of the game to climax a winning two-run rally. The second game was rained out.

Playing between showers, Baltimore trimmed the Toronto Leafs, 9 to 6, and 4 to 2. The opener, a ragged affair, marked by three Toronto homers and Cliff Melton's second pitching victory in two days, was decided by a five-run rally in

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Roosevelt returned to the capital today, ending a 4000-mile speaking trip through the South and West that began last Monday night.

Arriving at Union Station 15 minutes ahead of schedule, the President found three Cabinet members waiting to meet him. They were Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau; Attorney General Cummings; and Postmaster-General E. A. Tamm.

Roosevelt went directly to the White House.

Talks in West Virginia.
The President made his last rear platform speech on the trip this morning at Martinsburg, W. Va., where he told a crowd of several hundred that he was on his journey, "the whole country is a lot better off than a few years ago."

He added the Martinsburg region reminded him of his childhood on the Hudson. "There is only one kind of apple as good as the Dutchess County apple, and that's one of your apples," he said.

The President declared the Potomac Valley was "coming back into its own" and expressed the hope that within a few years a great parkway would be constructed from the National Capital through West Virginia, all the way to the Ohio River.

Roosevelt Visits Lincoln Cabin at Hodgenville, Ky.
By the Associated Press.
ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Roosevelt, in a formal statement issued on his train after visiting Abraham Lincoln's birthplace at Hodgenville, Ky., late yesterday, urged a new pledge of "fidelity to the faith which Lincoln held in the common man."

A crowd gathered at Hodgenville looked on as the President visited the Lincoln log cabin and signed the guest book. He made no speech.

Arriving at Louisville yesterday afternoon on the way to Hodgenville, Mr. Roosevelt was greeted by a large group of Kentucky officials and politicians, who accompanied him to the Lincoln birthplace.

Gov. Chandler extended a "heartily welcome" to the President and said the presence of the large crowd at the station showed Kentucky "guaranteed not to neglect him next November."

The President's statement on his visit to Hodgenville follows:

"I have visited the cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born. I have come here individually, as one of many millions of Americans whose lives have been influenced for the good by Abraham Lincoln.

"I live, temporarily, in the same house and the same rooms once occupied by him. The very window from which he gazed in the dark days is the same.

"But this cabin is even more personal than the scenes of his official life; for here was born and lived the child. Here is the promise, later to be so splendidly fulfilled.

"I have taken from this cabin a renewed confidence that the spirit of America is not dead, that men and means will be found to explore new worlds with the problems of a new time with no less humanity and no less fortitude than his.

"Here we can renew our pledge of fidelity to the faith which Lincoln held in the common man—the faith so simply expressed when he said:

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference, is no democracy."

VINCENNES, Ind., June 15.—President Roosevelt dedicated a granite memorial to George Rogers Clark, Revolutionary War hero, here yesterday.

The President took as his text Clark's pronouncement that all religions should be tolerated in America and the Ordinance of 1787, which declared religion, morality and knowledge to be "necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind." He said:

Britain's Singapore Naval Base, Greatest in World, Nearly Complete

Hidden Chain of Fortifications, With Anti-Aircraft and Sea Defenses, Cost $75,000,000—Secrecy Guarded.

By the Associated Press.
SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, June 15.—The world's mightiest naval base here, Great Britain's $75,000,000 citadel in the East, is now receiving the final touches.

To the traveler coming to Singapore by steamer or train, nothing of this mighty fortress is visible. The visitor sees only innocent-looking islands robed in palm trees, great stretches of open water, fishing boats, Chinese junks, and an innocuous-looking shore line. Behind the palm trees, the rubber plantations, and the coast line, however, are a series of 18-inch guns, underground batteries, air-plane bases, graving-docks and naval refitment stations, which naval experts say greatly surpass the formidable United States defensive works at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu.

The traveler is strictly forbidden to enter any part of the naval base. The approaches are guarded by Sikh troops.

In addition to the elaborate naval and military fortifications and equipment, the British are building enormous airfields. Two have been completed and others are planned. Close to the naval base are the headquarters of the Royal Air Force in the Far East. Already there are two big squadrons of heavy bombing planes and one squadron of flying boats here. In time, several hundred pursuit and bombing machines, as well as long-distance cruising hydroplanes, will be stationed here.

Supplementing this formidable network of naval and air defenses are 5000 British troops of the famous Gordon Highlanders, the Middlesex Regiment and the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers. This force in time will be trebled. Today Singapore is the strongest fortified British colony in the world. Gibraltar and Malta fade out of the picture in comparison.

Great nests of modern anti-aircraft guns, that could keep up a steady fire which no intruding air force would be able to penetrate, the British say, have also been installed at strategic points.

Powerful steel nets have been laid in all the harbors to catch any submarines that may attempt to break the great cordon of defense. All approaches to the harbor will be mined. At night, powerful searchlights and secret listening-wireless stations will be employed to detect the approach of any enemy.

Periodically there is a spy scare in Singapore. As the base nears completion, the police declare, the number of foreign spies has increased and special "anti-spy squads" of police have been formed to guard against them. Every one of the 5000 mechanics and workmen engaged in the construction and operation of the naval base is kept under surveillance. Police say there have been numerous attempts to bribe some of these workmen into disclosing some of the details of the fortifications.

CIVIL WAR THREAT IN CHINA SAID TO HAVE BEEN ENDED

Chiang Kai-shek Declares
"Situation Is Improved"
—Nanking Continues
Military Preparations.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, June 15.—Reports that the Chinese crisis, which carried threats of civil war, is being peaceably settled were published by the vernacular press today.

Newspapers declared Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of the Nanking (Central) Government sent this message to Chinese business leaders here: "I believe the situation is much improved. While Nanking continues to profess peace, its military preparations continue."

The National Government was reported concentrating additional troops at Wuchang, gateway to Hunan Province, from Hupeh and Honan Provinces.

An additional division of Central troops was reported ordered to Changsha, in Hunan Province, from Ichang and Shasi in Hupeh Province.

Reports from Changsha, on which armies of the Canton Government were reported to have advanced, said Northern troop mobilizations continue in the region. The reports added there was no indication of impending hostilities.

Canton Plea to Nanking.
The Canton Government telegraphed the Government at Nanking urging that China as a whole take a stronger attitude toward Japanese activities in China.

The message, sent by Chen Chiang, Governor of Canton and military leader of Kwangtung Province, said, however, that forces of Cantonese were withdrawing from Hunan Province "for the present."

Hunan, attached to the Nanking Government, borders on Kwangtung Province of the Canton Government.

National Government leaders interpreted the development as a strong indication that Kwangtung province was unwilling to continue its threat against Hunan province.

The dispatch is answering with ever-increasing military concentrations in Fukien, Kiangsi and Hunan provinces.

U. S. Naval Activities.
The American gunboat Mindanao, flagship of the United States South China naval patrol, is at Canton.

The U. S. S. Asheville, attached to the South China patrol, which has been in Shanghai for many weeks, left for Manila to be overhauled.

This caused unconfirmed rumors here that increased American naval strength was headed for South China but naval officials here said the Asheville's departure was not due to Chinese affairs.

Report Says Canton Wants Financial Benefits From Nanking.
By the Associated Press.
CANTON, June 15.—Authoritative circles here indicated today that leaders of the armies of Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces, which make up the Canton territory, were holding firmly in check their troops which had started a march northward into Hunan.

This action by the southerners strengthened the opinion they were playing for a compromise with Nanking under which they would gain financial concessions.

Southwestern war lords have been quoted as saying their real aim is a campaign against Japan but this is not taken seriously in circles informed of the intricacies of South China politics. This anti-Japanese cry, these sources assert, is a blind behind which the southerners seek to improve their condition at the expense of Nanking.

MUSK-OX HERD SENT TO TINY ISLE TO HELP ESKIMOS

Expected to Provide Food and Wool to 500 Living on Bering Sea Island.

By the Associated Press.
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 15.—Twenty-seven highly contented musk-ox were singled out from the shaggy herd on the University of Alaska farm today to take up pioneer life on a little Bering Sea island 2000 miles away.

The beasts, which combine the characteristics of the sheep and ox, will move July 1 by railroad and Yukon River steamer to Nunivak Island off Southwestern Alaska.

Charles H. Rouse of the university, in charge of moving the musk-ox, hoped to build up a large herd on the island to provide food and wool for the 500 Eskimos living there. Five musk-ox, taken from the university herd a year ago for experimental purposes, flourished on Nunivak, he said.

The foundation of the university herd was brought here in 1930 from Greenland in the hope of restoring the species to Alaska, where they lived in great numbers before ruthless hunting virtually exterminated them.

MILLARD B. KITT, ASSOCIATE OF LATE THOMAS EDISON, DIES

Directed First Public Exhibition of Phonograph; Toured Country Recording Voices.
By the Associated Press.
NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 15.—Millard B. Kitt, 67 years old, associate of Thomas Edison in the development of the phonograph, died of a heart attack Saturday night while visiting his brother, Howard G. Kitt, in Jersey City, it was learned here yesterday.

A native of Canton, O., Mr. Kitt directed the first public exhibition of the phonograph in New York City working in the Edison laboratories. He toured the country recording voices of prominent persons.

Later he became interested in the development of electric elevators and automatic sprinklers. He was a member of the Edison Pioneers and one-time secretary of the National Automatic Sprinkler Association.

SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT OF SWEDEN RESIGNS

King Gustaf Calls on Agrarian Party Leader to Form New Cabinet.
By the Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, June 15.—King Gustaf entrusted to a farmer leader today the task of forming a new Government after the Socialist Government of Premier Per-Albin Hansson had resigned.

He called on Axel Pehrsson, Agrarian party head, to form a cabinet on as broad a parliamentary basis as possible.

The resignation followed rejection last week by the Riksdag (Parliament) of a Government bill to increase old age pensions to meet increased cost of living.

It was predicted that the new cabinet would be formed by the farmers and peoples parties to hold office until the September elections.

Succumbs to Heart Attack
After Illness of Week at London Home—62 Years Old.

By the Associated Press.
BEAconsfield, England, June 15.—Gilbert K. Chesterton, British author and critic, died yesterday of heart disease, after a week's illness, in his home outside London. He was 62 years old.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

His last work, completed in April, was an autobiography describing the literary achievements of the "Prince of Paradoxes," a name by which he was often called.

Career of Chesterton; He Studied Art, but Turned to Literature.
THE career of Gilbert Keith Chesterton led him from art study to criticism which he later expanded to include varied forms—essays, poetry, detective stories and newspaper writing. His outspoken criticisms in addresses and writings frequently led to controversies.

For several years during the early part of his career, Mr. Chesterton was somewhat of a puzzle in the field of English literature, but with his admirers constantly growing in numbers and his work better understood, he eventually came to be known in England as the most lovable and boyish character among British authors.

His own idea of himself was that he was born to attain fame as an artist. He made a determined effort to reach that goal by leaving St. Paul's school, where he studied as a youth, to attend the art classes at the Slade School, London. After filling the role of art critic for "The Bookman," a time he discovered that his natural bent was toward literature and he again changed his course to devote himself to cultivating that means of expression, both in verse and prose.

Having done occasional reviewing and had some experience in a publisher's office, Mr. Chesterton in 1900 produced a volume of clever poems under the title, "The Wild Knight." It was about that time he definitely took to journalism as a

GERMAN KILLINGS LAID TO ROEHM'S AVENGERS

Followers of Murdered Captain Reported Engaged in Campaign of Terror.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 15.—The Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Paris Soir says a campaign of murder and threats against high officials is being conducted in Germany by adherents of Capt. Ernst Roehm, the Storm Troop commander who was killed in the Nazi "blood purge" of June 1934.

The dispatch reports formation of a "Roehm Ratcher" (avenger Roehm) organization which has sent warnings even to Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

The bodies of members of the Schutzstaffel (picked guards) and Storm Troops have been found in isolated spots with the initials "RR" scrawled on their chests.

Twenty thousand of Roehm's followers swore to avenge their leader's death, the correspondent asserts. The campaign has been directed principally at the Nazi troops, it is reported, because the high party officials are too well-guarded.

The Schutzstaffel and Storm Troops took leading parts in the assassinations which were reported to be a result of Hitler's personal order. Roehm and others were accused of immorality.

Special precautions have been taken by the Government, the correspondent adds, to prevent an uprising on June 30, the anniversary of the death of Roehm.

Strict censorship has made it impossible to estimate the number of victims of the "RR" group, the newspaper says.

A spokesman for the Propaganda Ministry in Berlin has denied the existence of the "Roehm organization" and added "there never will be any." The source of the correspondent's dispatch, the spokesman said, was a book called "I Can No Longer Keep Still," published in Switzerland by a German immigrant.

POPE PIUS NAMES TWO NEW CARDINALS

Mrs. Giovanni Mercati and Eugenio Tisserant of Vatican Library Elevated.

By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, June 15.—Pope Pius XI raised two old friends to the rank of Cardinal today in a secret consistory.

The two new princes of the church are Mrs. Giovanni Mercati and Eugenio Tisserant.

The ceremonies were attended by 27 Cardinals, including Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia. Both of the new Cardinals were closely associated with Pius years before his election to the papacy.

Mgr. Mercati came with him to Rome to work in the Vatican library. Mgr. Tisserant has been associated with the library for 30 years.

After the formal ritual in the closed consistory hall the Pope delivered an allocution to the Cardinals. Then the doors were opened. A delegation of heralds—consisting of a papal chamberlain, a master of ceremonies and an archivist—greeted the two new Cardinals and invited them to visit the Pope on Wednesday evening, when they will receive their red hats.

The Pope in his allocution said: "We invite the Catholic faithful to pray the Lord will permit us as long as life lasts to spend it in unceasing, fruitful work for the divine glory and good of the soul."

He congratulated Catholic Action organizations for their activities among laymen and said: "These signs, which in the midst of many adversities indicate divine assistance in the face of an increase in the church's enemies, are increasingly generous with their aid, their comforts and proofs of fidelity."

During the consistory the Pope formally proclaimed appointments of three American and two Canadian Bishops. They were Mgr. George L. Leach, Bishop of Harrisburg, Pa.; Mgr. Hugh L. Lamb, auxiliary Bishop to Cardinal Dougherty; Mgr. William Adrian, Nashville, Tenn.; Mgr. Francis Carroll, Calgary, Alta.; and Mgr. Patrick Bray, St. John.

COLLEGE HEAD ON NEW DEAL

Clifton D. Gray Says It Has Damaged the Nation's Soul.
By the Associated Press.
LEWISTON, Me., June 15.—The "New Deal," President Clifton D. Gray of Bates College said in his baccalaureate sermon yesterday, has done damage to the nation's soul "which will take more than a generation to repair."

The task of paying for the administration's "orgy of spending," he said, would be easier than "restoring to the human spirit what it has lost—the necessity of individual effort and struggle, without which there can be neither self-respect nor self-development."

Hitler Reviews Fleet Secretly.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 15.—A secret visit by Adolf Hitler in his private yacht, "Grille," to review 40 units of the German fleet maneuvering off Skagen, Denmark's northernmost point, was disclosed today. The dictator, escorted by a torpedo boat arrived in semi-darkness at 8 o'clock last night and sped away half an hour later.

MARC KLAU, 78, DIES; THEATRICAL PRODUCER

Former Partner of Erlanger and Frohman Organized Chaotic Booking Field.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Marc Klaw, former partner in the famous theatrical firm, Klaw and Erlanger, died yesterday at his home in Sussex, England, it was learned here today. He was 78. Death followed a heart attack and a day's illness.

As theatrical booking agents, Klaw and A. L. Erlanger, who died in 1930, brought Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson to this country, and booked Fanny Davenport, Grace George, and the Augustin Daly company, headed by Ada Rehan and John Drew. Gadski was among the singers they sent on tour.

Extending their activities to production, they staged "Ben Hur," which became a great road show; "The Merry Widow," "The Pink Lady," and "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway."

The firm organized the chaotic booking field. In 1896 the partners formed the famous booking syndicate, with which Charles Frohman was associated.

Then the Shuberts came to New York, and a bitter fight began. Finally Klaw and Erlanger had to share the field with the Shuberts. The partnership was dissolved in 1915.

Klaw was born in Paducah, Ky., in 1858. He started to be a lawyer, and was practicing in Louisville in 1881 when Gus Frohman, brother of Charles and Daniel, gave him a case that focused his attention on the theater. It concerned a lawsuit for pirates who were producing a play without paying royalties.

Klaw moved to England seven years ago. He is survived by his widow, the former Blanche Harris, an Englishwoman, whom he married at 47, and two sons of his first marriage, Joseph Klaw of New York and Alonzo Klaw of Croton Falls, N. Y.

His first wife was the former Antoinette M. Morris of Boston, who died several years ago.

INTERNATIONAL MORALITY LOW, HULL TELLS STUDENTS

Good Faith Must Triumph, He Says, if World Is to Avoid Another Cataclysm.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 15.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull told Brown University graduates today that the World War and its aftermath "have reduced the standards of international morality to a low level."

"The predatory instinct of national greed is again rampant and has already set armies marching in the name of righteousness," Hull said. "Solemn international agreements are being violated with a light heart. Apprehension, suspicion and confusion rule the political relations among most nations."

In nearly every domain of life, he said, there is a "friendliness, and distrust over confidence and good faith."

"If the world is not to be plunged into another cataclysm, friendliness and confidence, fair dealing and good faith must triumph once more, in the relations among nations, over hostility and distrust and suspicion and greed. This cannot come to pass unless the spirit underlying national policies undergoes a rebirth—unless individuals within nations, through their personal conduct, through their influence upon others, through their exercise of responsible citizenship, devote themselves to the cause of such rebirth. For, in the final analysis, no nation is better than the individuals who compose it."

Hull received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

ARKANSAS STATE CENTENNIAL

Cities and Towns in Holiday Attire; Colorful Parade at Capital.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 15.—Arkansas, once the link between the traditional Old South and the rough and ready West, reached its 100th year of statehood today.

The centennial of that June 15, 1836, when President Andrew Jackson signed the act of Congress admitting the territory into the Union, found this State in holiday attire. In the streets of Little Rock, descendants of Arkansas' "first families" led a colorful parade. In other cities, groups continued a round of pageants, dedications and other fetes.

By the Associated Press. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 15.—Arkansas centennial stamps went on sale here today in commemoration of the State's admittance to the Union 100 years ago. The first sheet was sent to President Roosevelt.

Mass Opens Hospital Association. BALTIMORE, June 15.—A Pontifical Mass, celebrated by Archbishop Michael J. Curley, opened the twenty-first annual convention of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada today. The 2000 delegates include about 800 nuns, some from points in the Arctic Circle. A series of exhibits at the Fifth Regiment Armory marked the opening session. The Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, S. J., dean of the School of Medicine of St. Louis University and president of the association, presided at the formal opening of the exhibits.

G. K. CHESTERTON, BRITISH AUTHOR AND CRITIC, DIES

career and became a regular contributor of signed articles to the liberal journals, "The Speaker," and "The Daily News."

Wide Range of Literary Mediums. From the first Chesterton established himself as a writer with a distinct personality—combative, unconventional and dogmatic—with the result that his writings were much sought and were published in some 15 London newspapers and magazines. In addition to his original style, he attracted further attention by his versatility, his work ranging from fiction to fugitive verse and from artistic criticism to discussions of ethics and religion. His reputation was further enhanced by the republication of much of his work in a series of volumes.

The interest excited by his work and views was indicated by an analysis of them in an anonymous volume, "G. K. Chesterton: A Criticism," published in 1908. Mr. Chesterton was born at Kensington, London, May 29, 1874. In 1901 he married Miss Francis Baggot. They made their home at Beaconsfield, a London suburb.

During his life as a journalist Chesterton found time for longer works which early established his more serious literary reputation. Among these were "Orthodoxy," "All Things Considered," "The Ballad of the White Horse" and "The Napoleon of Notting Hill." Later came two volumes of detective stories, "The Innocence of Father Brown" and "The Wisdom of Father Brown." These were followed by what has been called the funniest of his works, "The Ball and the Cross."

In 1926 he established his own periodical, "G. K.'s Weekly," to deal with contemporary literary and political affairs.

In all his fiction, in the opinion of critics, he permitted his imagination to run riot. His works, they have pointed out, are tinged with love of paradox, his boyish joy in saying something incongruous. On this point critics are in agreement. His paradoxes are an attempt to restore the world to its traditional sanity. His is the prose of a fighter; his poetry is also full of the rhetoric of battle. Another of his critics characterized Mr. Chesterton as the "prince of paradoxes," but the author disclaimed that literary honor, if it may be called that.

Visited U. S. Several Times. The author visited the United States several times. Certain aspects of American life, particularly its collection, drew barbed shafts from him.

After his last visit to the United States, in 1931, he called New York "terrifying" and said:

"I've been in Tennessee, where, if a man insults you, you are expected to shoot him with a gun or you're not considered a gentleman. Call it barbarism or chivalry, it's the feudal spirit full of feud."

"From one end to the other of this magnificent civilization there is no such thing as a village. When you enter a little town it is simply an eyeshot to anybody of European tradition or instincts. The first things that meet are yellow tin advertisements, tin buildings with frames of lead and glass and tin shops, and then, thank God, you are out of town."

His collections of essays and fiction have had wide circulation in the United States and his detective stories appeared serially in American magazines.

In 1922 Mr. Chesterton became converted to the Roman Catholic faith partly through the influence of his most intimate friend, Hilaire Belloc, and afterwards wrote vigorously on religious topics upholding his adopted church. Four years later his wife also became a communicant of the Catholic Church. He was a member of the

"THREE MUSKETEERS" AT MUNICIPAL OPERA

Second Offering Opens Tonight—Guy Robertson in Role of d'Artagnan.

The Municipal Opera will revive the old-time Ziegfeld musical show, "The Three Musketeers," tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park as its second offering of the season.

The show has been given rather elaborate production by Director Laurence Schwab, who has rounded up four of the members of the original company and a group of Municipal Opera favorites for the principal roles. The music is by Rudolf Friml, composer of the scores for "The Yagabond King" and "Rose Marie"; the lyrics are by P. G. Wodehouse and Clifford Grey, and William Anthony McGuire adapted the show from the Dumas novel.

Guy Robertson in Lead. Guy Robertson, who was a fixture at the Municipal Theater from 1930 to 1932, when the Shuberts employed the stock system, returns to St. Louis to take the principal role of d'Artagnan. For the past two years Robertson has been singing in "The Great Waltz."

The members of the original company who will be in the production are Vivienne Segal in the part of Constance Bonacieux, Detmar Poppen as Porthos, John Clarke as the Duke of Buckingham, and Joseph Macaulay, who created the part of Aramis but will play Cardinal Richelieu here.

Besides Poppen as Porthos, the other musketeers will be Albert Mahler, a newcomer who has sung frequently in concert with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, as Aramis, and Ray Middleton, who had the male lead in last week's "Kid Boots," as Athos.

Ruby Mercer as Queen Anne. Ruby Mercer, who got her start on the stage here last year in "The Chocolate Soldier" and has since scored a success in the spring productions at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, returns to take the part of Queen Anne, as France. George Price, who had the starring part in "Kid Boots," will play the comedy lead of Planchet.

Others in the cast include Noel Francis, a newcomer from Hollywood, who will play Lady de Winter; Bertram Peacock as King Louis XIII; and June Havoc, Inez Harvot, Earle MacVeigh, John Cherry and Al Downing. The premier ballerina will be Helene Denizon.

About 7500 persons saw the tenth anniversary performance of "Kid Boots" last night, making a total attendance of 73,000 for the 10 nights. The remaining shows at the theater will be given only seven nights each.

Members of Hunt and Riding Clubs Attend Exhibition Including 20 Events.

The Trails End horse show of the Trails End Stables, owned by Bradford Shinkle and Andrew Johnson, was held yesterday afternoon with Miss Jane Johnson, former Veiled Prophet queen, active in the management of the exhibition and participating in several of the 20 events.

Hunters and jumpers predominated in the all day program with Gay Pete, exhibited by Miss Johnson, being adjudged the best hunter in the show. August A. Busch Jr.'s sorrel mare Burdland was named reserve champion.

Busch drove several guests to the show in a coach and four, and Adalbert von Gontard drove a light rig. Both participated in a colorful "harness turnout" event. The show was attended by numerous spectators who are members of various hunt and riding clubs.

STEEL WORKER SHOT

Man Says He Returned Fire of Strikers.

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 15.—Ella Presley, 22 years old, a union employee of the strike-closed Wheeling Steel Corp., plant was wounded seriously early today and Sheriff Arthur Oakes said James Craft, 25, had confessed he did the shooting. The sheriff said Craft, a Works Progress Administration worker told him he was attacked by two men last night, and later while returning home after having his injuries treated, was fired on by Presley. Craft, the sheriff said, his prisoner told him, returned the fire, wounding Presley. The injured man denied he fired at Craft but blamed the shooting on non-union steel workers. The shooting was one of a series of outbreaks of violence in connection with the strike which left 5000 employees idle.

Mercolized Wax Helps Nature Beautify Skin

Mercolized Wax is a natural skin beauty. It has Nature's skin shedding flaking off the dingy, discolored surface skin. The old skin comes off so gradually you can not detect the actual process. Surface blemishes of coarse disappear. The perfectly natural beauty of the under skin is then revealed in all its soft, smooth, glorious loveliness. Bring out the hidden beauty of your skin with Mercolized Wax.

Use Mercolized Astringent—a refreshing, stimulating skin tonic. Dissolve in witch hazel. Smooths out wrinkles and age spots. Retains large pores. Eliminates pimples.

To Preserve—the "different" hair remove. Takes off unwanted hair quickly and gently. Leaves the skin smooth, soft and hair free. Simple to use. Oldest. At all drug and department stores.

$500,000 MINIMUM FEE FIXED IN SMITH REYNOLDS WILL SUIT

Court Allows Attorneys 5 Per Cent of Daughter's Share in Estate.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., June 15.—Attorneys for Anne Cannon Reynolds II were allowed a minimum of $500,000 in fees today for representing her in the litigation over the estate of her father, the late Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir. Judge Clayton Moore signed an order fixing the fee at 5 per cent of the child's share of the estate, but specifying $500,000 as the minimum. The order was signed on petition of Mrs. Annie L. Cannon, grandmother and co-guardian of the child. The other guardian, the Cabarrus Bank & Trust Co., of Concord, gave notice it would appeal from Judge Moore's judgment. The two firms named in the order are Brooks, Parker & Holderness, and Brooks, McLendon and Holderness of Greensboro.

Attorneys for Christopher Smith Reynolds, son of Reynolds by his second wife, Libby Holman, the singer, were recently allowed a fee of 15 per cent of the child's share of the estate, estimated at more than $7,000,000.

The latest inventory of the estate was said in court today to have placed the value at slightly more than $33,000,000.

80-YEAR-OLD NATURALIST CONDUCTS OWN 'FUNERAL'

1000 'Mourners' Eat Picnic Lunch After He Gives Oratorical Requesting Pyre at Death.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 15.—L. F. Bailliff, 80 years old, conducted a funeral for himself yesterday. Some 1000 "mourners" stood under the trees of his farm in Warren County, Ind., and heard him deliver an hour-long oration during which he requested that when he died they lay his body on a pile of logs, set them afire and go forth without weeping. After the "funeral" they opened their picnic baskets and ate.

Bailliff, a retired school teacher and naturalist, declared "There is no god but nature." He wanted no minister "prattling" over his bier, he said. He composed his own sermon with this as the theme: "To know one's self is wisdom; to govern that self is strength." Asked for his views on the hereafter, he said: "I don't know where we go from here and I don't care. Whether to Heaven or Hell, I haven't had time to figure out. I do all the kindness I can here and I'll take my chances."

$1,800,000 TAX CASE SETTLED

About $540,000 Paid on Income by R. J. Dunham, Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The Government's claim against Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago Parks District, for income taxes in 1930-31-32 amounting to $1,818,806, has been settled by stipulation. Government attorneys announced today. Although the amount of the settlement was not announced, Dunham's attorney said it was "at least $540,000." On motion of the Government, the claim was dismissed.

A settlement also resulted in dismissal of the Government's tax claim against Benjamin F. Lindheimer, Chicago politician who recently resigned the chairmanship of the Illinois Commerce Commission, but details were not disclosed.

MILAN, June 15.—The Fascist party directorate ordered today that 100,000 rifles be given Fascists from 18 to 21 years old for drill purposes.

The directorate also ordered that 700,000 babies be sent to summer camps in order to improve their health—"the basis of the empire's power."

JAPANESE SMUGGLERS ARM ESCORTS TO PROTECT TRADE

Seeking Safe Transportation of Illicit Goods to Interior of China.

By the Associated Press. TIENTSIN, China, June 15.—Japanese dealers here handling smuggled goods formed an organization to combat anti-smuggling measures taken by the Nanking Government.

Claiming Chinese customs measures for the prevention of smuggling are "affecting the interior China market for Japanese goods," the group, calling itself "The Tientsin Traders' Association," decided to supply escorts to insure the safe transportation of illicit merchandise to interior China markets.

(Large-scale smuggling has been an incident to the Japanese economic and military penetration of North China, although the Japanese Government officially disclaims responsibility. The Nanking Government, losing an enormous amount of revenue, has twice protested officially to Tokio and representations have been made by foreign Powers, including the United States and Great Britain.)

NARCOTIC BUYER, FUGITIVE FOR YEAR, IS SENTENCED

Former Negro Convict Gets Five Year Term; Fled After His Conviction.

Van Buren Martin, Negro former convict and a fugitive for more than a year after he was found guilty of violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act, was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $100 today by Federal Judge Charles B. Davis.

Martin was arrested at Seventh and Elm streets Oct. 12, 1934, as he bought a package of opium from a Chinese. A jury found him guilty May 11, 1935, and his request for five days' liberty to adjust his affairs was granted when he gave $1000 bond. He was arrested recently in Chicago. Martin was sentenced to a four-term for selling narcotics in 1927.

PWA Strike Mediator Ends Inquiry.

SANDOVAL, Ill., June 15.—Hugh Sperry, an investigator and mediator for the United States Labor Relations Board, has gone to Washington to submit his findings in a strike here of PWA workers which has tied up work on a waterworks project for the past 10 days. Sperry met with union representatives and the city board late Friday. City authorities said the striking workers seek union recognition and an increase in the hourly wage scale.

BODY OF ONE OF POISON VICTIMS ORDERED EXHUMED

Massachusetts Officials Think Frank Halgas Was Killed in "Insurance Racket."

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 15.—District Attorney Thomas F. Moriarty obtained today an order for the exhumation of the body of Frank Halgas, 50 years old, of Ludlow, with a view to determining the kind and quantity of poison in the body. Halgas is believed by State and local authorities to be one of numerous victims of a widespread "insurance racket."

Dr. William Boos of Boston, State toxicologist, will examine the organs of the dead man. Quantities of a poison easily obtained in drug and other stores have been found in the bodies of at least three persons, known to have died under suspicious circumstances in recent months.

Another development in the state police investigation of the deaths today was a demand made on Trial Justice George B. Haas by District Attorney Moriarty for all information he may have concerning the alleged racket. Justice Haas in an inquest report said Halgas' death appeared to be a "murderous act." Halgas died April 4, apparently as the result of an automobile accident.

REPLY FILED TO PETITION OF COTTON BELT TRUSTEE
 Bankers' Trust of New York suggests use of certificates to buy equipment he asks for. Use of equipment trust certificates for $748,250 instead of cash, to pay three-quarters of the cost of rolling stock desired, was suggested by the Bankers' Trust Co. of New York in an answer filed in Federal Court today to the application of Berryman Henwood, trustee of the Cotton Belt Railway, to spend $995,000 on rolling stock and $938,203 for other improvements and maintenance.

The Bankers' Trust Co., trustee under a second mortgage bond issue of the road, told the Court it had no knowledge of the necessity of the expenditures, but that if the rolling stock was bought it could be had for 25 per cent cash and the balance in equipment trust certificates. Items involved were five locomotives for $575,000, 50 steel automobile cars for $195,000 and five air-conditioned coaches for $225,000.

It was requested by the Bankers' Trust Co. that trustee Henwood pay the $200,000 in interest which was due Jan. 1 on the second mortgage bonds and make arrangements to pay the $200,000 to become due July 1. Henwood's application will be heard by Federal Judge Charles B. Davis Friday.

 One of the two Saiga antelopes, brought to the Zoo May 19 with a shipment of other animals, has died from a fractured hip suffered on the train ride from New York. The animals, which are found on the steppes of Siberia, are very rare and the pair here were the only two in the United States besides a pair in the National Zoo at Washington. They cost $2500 a pair. The loss of the animal here was covered by insurance.

BOY, 16, KILLS HIS FATHER

Illinois Youth Says Parent Threatened Family With Pistol.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill., June 15.—Tommy Hogg, 16 years old, of Herod, near here, was held in the county jail today while authorities investigated his story that he killed his father, George Hogg, because the latter "threatened to shoot the whole family."

Authorities quoted the youth as saying he shot his father, a Hardin County WPA worker, with a shotgun yesterday about noon when he threatened the family with a revolver. The first shot, authorities said struck the elder Hogg in the face knocking him down. The son then fired four more shots at his father.

WIRE MILL BUYS TWO BARGES

Woman Shot in Row Dies.
 Mrs. May Robinson, 24 years old, a Negro, 2743 Mills street, died yesterday at City Hospital No. 2 of a bullet wound in the abdomen, which, she had told police, was inflicted Wednesday by her husband, Alex, after he had accused her of going with other men. Robinson told police he fired in self-defense when she struck him.

Parachute Falls; Flyer Killed.

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 15.—Leland Pinkham, 30 years old, of Aberdeen, fell to his death here yesterday when his parachute failed to open after he bailed out of a spinning airplane. Pinkham, who held a limited commercial license, was flying at an altitude of about 4000 feet when the plane apparently developed motor trouble. He stayed with the plane until he maneuvered it away from the residential district and then bailed out, but was too close to the ground for his parachute to open.

Crane Operator Dies in His Cab

An inquest will be held in the death of Jefferson Peoples, Negro crane operator, who collapsed and died today in the cab of an overhead travelling crane at the Louis Leale Casting Co., 7700 Conduit avenue, where he was employed. An inhalator was used for an hour, without success. The body was taken to the Morgue. Peoples, 30 years old, resided at 826 Gledale avenue, Prospect Hill.

SPECIALTIES SCORE GAINS IN A QUIET STOCK LIST

Profit-Taking Keeps Many of the Leaders in a Narrow Range—Steel Production at 70 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Specialties tipped the Stock Market price scales for gains of fractions to 2 or more points today, but profit taking kept many of the leaders in a narrow range.

Dealings were on the quiet side throughout, transfers approximating 750,000 shares. The close was steady.

Steel issues were popular for a time when the American Iron & Steel Institute placed this week's mill operations at 70 per cent of capacity, up 5 from the previous week.

Douglas aircraft pushed ahead about a point as the War Department announced awards for 150 pursuit planes would be made public this week.

Industrial Rayon and Celanese shares, firm at the close Saturday on reports of a prospective boost in Rayon yarn rates, marked time notwithstanding that leading companies posted increased prices today.

Among the principal gainers was Reverse Copper & Brass "A", up about 5 points at its best. Universal Leaf Tobacco advanced a point on the declaration of an extra dividend. J. I. Case was up 4 most of the session, but fell back later.

About unchanged to a point or more higher were du Pont, American Can, American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Standard Oil of New Jersey, North American, United Corporation, American Water Works, National Dairy, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Deere, General Electric, International Harvester, American Crystal Sugar, Great Northern and Santa Fe.

A little backward were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, Chrysler, N. Y. Central, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Sears Roebuck and Allied Chemical.

Carrier bonds improved. Wheat was strong on drought advices, finishing up 2 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel. Corn was up to 1 1/2 firmer. Foreign gold currencies were down in terms of the dollar.

American Women preferred attracted buying attention, being given a lift of nearly 2 points on the basis of increasing textile demand.

A drop in cattle prices at Chicago failed to disturb packing shares particularly. Wilson, Armour and Swift slipped a shade either way.

Realizing just before the close of trading brought fractional declines in Schenley, United Gas Improvement, Public Service of New Jersey, Electric Power & Light, Chesapeake & Ohio, McIntire Porcelain and Radio.

Cotton ended off 5 cents a bale to up 40 cents.

The French franc, at mid-afternoon was 0.05 of a cent in arrears at 6.58 cents. Sterling was up 1/2 of a cent at $5.03 1/2.

News of the Day.

Some traders were said to have resumed their seats on the sidelines pending the outcome of the Congressional tax controversy and the returns from soldiers' bonus spending which is expected to get under way in a day or so.

There was a feeling in several quarters, however, that a number of companies which are likely to receive the greatest benefit may have partly discounted the distribution.

Interesting to the followers of motor stocks was the Wall Street forecasts of excellent second quarter earnings statements from the automobile makers, that analysts figured profits in this field would be about 18 per cent above the comparable period last year.

Recent strength of farm machinery equities was said to reflect the belief that the business of this division in the first half of 1936 would be the best for the period since 1930.

Investment participation in utilities was reported on the basis of power consumption which is making most favorable showings against the 1935 aggregates.

Steel Market Situation.

The continued high rate of steel production helped to buoy market sentiment.

It was noted that the magazine "Steel" found that strong demand for immediate consumption, together with speculative buying against higher prices which take effect July 1, are accounting for the principal mill activities at present.

At the same time prices of scrap, long viewed as a barometer of the industry, are still pointing downward.

While holders of rail stocks were unexcited over the extension of most emergency freight surcharges by the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was believed that a number of the roads would show a substantial increase in revenues over the next several months as a result of the ruling.

$11,906,500 Gold "Earmarked."

Chicago Stock Market

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Sharp losses in Polish loans distinguished the bond market today.

These issues yielded 1 to 3 points. The 7s closed at 77, the 8s at 72, and the 9s at 65. Czechoslovakia 8s advanced 1½, and the 9s 1½. Brazil 100 and Sao Paulo 7s were up 1½.

In the domestic corporate division were up fractions to a point or so, including Allegheny convertible 5s of 1950, Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4 1/2s of 50, Baltimore & Alton 3s at 51 1/2, 73 1/2, Chicago & Alton 4 1/2s at 77 1/2, Missouri-Kansas-Texas 4 1/2s at 77 1/2, Interborough Rapid Transit 6s rose 1/2, and the 6 per cent certificate to 53.3% to 50.4%. American Paper Co. was up one point to 54.7%. The Government group was unchanged to 3-32 higher to 108-3/8. The Treasury 3 1/4% was up 1/8 to 107-23/32 and 3 1/4% to 107-23/32.

It was freely predicted in banking circles that the new reserves of Federal Reserve banks would be used to help solve member banks' working capital problems as the result of cash payments for income tax and payments of quarterly income tax installments.

Some estimates were expected to run last week as $750,000,000. It was served however that the new reserves would be used for a vast amount of transactions, inasmuch as this item had last week to $2,850,000,000.

$25,000,000 Preferred Stock
By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK June 15.—A group of investors offered today the $25,000,000 preferred stock of the new issue of 4 1/4% per cent convertible preferred stock of Consolidated Company at $107 1/2.

The issue will raise funds, through the exchange, to retire the company's first issue of 5½ per cent convertible preferred stock, to increase working capital and to enable the company to stockpile larger amounts of capital stock to meet larger company business.

Holders of the 5½ per cent exchangeable preferred stock will receive one share of the new 4½ per cent preferred stock for each 5½ per cent share of a share of common. The exchange is expected to be completed by June 23. The 5½ per cent stock is expected to be called for redemption by July 31 at $110 and accrued for

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

(Copyright, 1936.)

ONCE I knew a woman. She was an Italian woman and she lived in a camp on the Mother Lode. When I knew her she was already old, but one did not think of her age any more than one thinks of the age of a mountain or a river or the wind and sun. She was taller than a man and had the strength of three. Great thighs, wide feet that seemed a part of the earth they gripped, a deep bosom that had known much service and a face seamed like a rock, still as deep water.

She was very poor as the world reckons. She lived in a rough, two-roomed cabin. She had never been on a railroad train, and she could read a few words. But I believe that hers was the richest life I have ever known.

She did not live life—she was life. Human soil. Life flowed through her. She bore many children. She helped to bring other mothers' children into the world. When death came, whether it was by day or night, hoofs clattered to her door and she went to dress the dead that often she had bathed at birth. Always on any of these occasions she moved quietly, with an abundant calm. There was a peace within her, as deep and vigorous as the firm flesh upon her bones. There was substance to her peace.

She never talked much, though her brown, ringed ears were cordial to gossip. She did not need words. There was a mellow comprehension about her that drove deep beneath the froth of words.

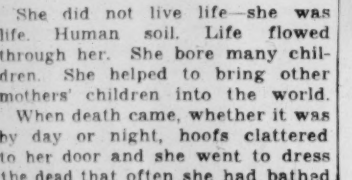

You can be sure she never quarreled with her ego, digging at it to watch its palpitations, as in our modern feminine wont. Moods or emotions—outside the simple necessities of love, and hate and grief—seemed trifling affairs to her. She believed that folks would get along all right if you gave them plenty of good food and well-ripened wine.

Food—it is impossible to write about her without thinking of food. Her great platters of polenta—the heaped yellow mounds of boiled meat dripping with savory mushroom gravy. The big, black pot of minestrone that simmered on the back of her stove, sending its thick, rich fragrance through the ruddy shadows of the room. Her round, crusty loaves of bread, slightly sour. The deep flasks of oil, pressed from the gnarled gray trees that grew behind her house. Food—she moved through a fat drama of feeding—

And, indeed, she was a sort of food herself, as rich in the nourishment she gave as her creamy pastes—her bracing, rough wine—her golden oils.

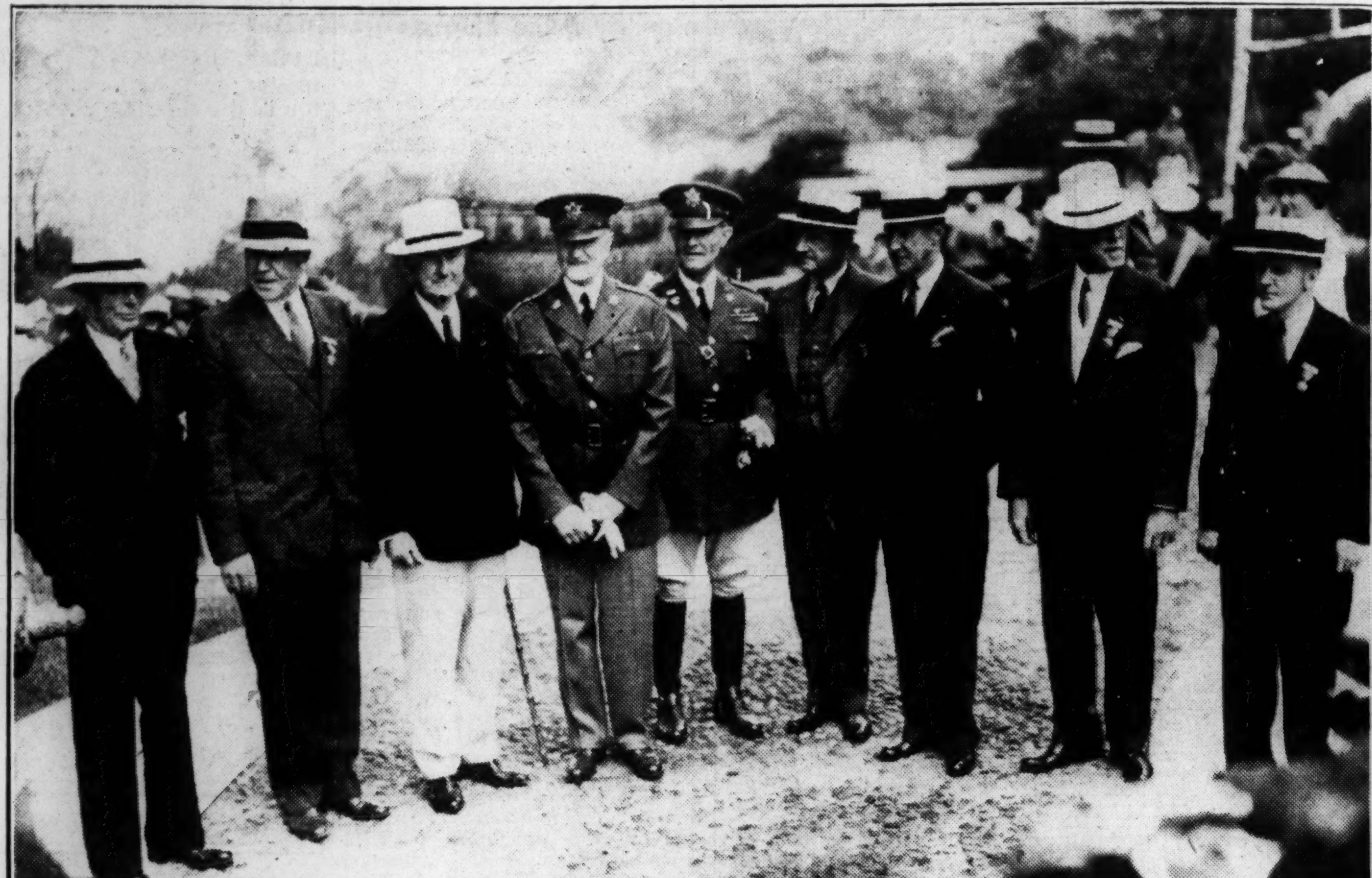

For 66 years she lived in the one place until she was old. Nothing passed there that had not known the service of her hands—that was not, in part, the product of her deep, sustaining strength. One day, shortly after her sixty-sixth birthday, she was grubbing in her soil, planting chili peppers. Three days later, she was part of that same soil.

It seemed a very natural mingling, they had been so close to each other, those two.

MOUNTAIN FOLK SONG FESTIVAL

Seve. 1 Thousand Attend Annual Program at Ashland, Ky.

ASHLAND, Ky., June 15.—The songs that the mountain folk have sung throughout the years were repeated again here yesterday before an audience of several thousand, including many from other states.

The annual gathering of the summer festival organized by Miss Jean Thomas of Ashland, was sponsored for the first time by the music project division of WPA, which has been busy for weeks having the words and music of the old ballads written to preserve them. Included in the program were the old Lincolnshire dances and the "dancing games" of children, including their favorite, the "Paw-Paw Patch."

Two Mothers Are Graduates.

SANTA ANA, Cal., June 15.—Mrs. Laura S. Parks and Mrs. Gertrude E. Sackman, mothers of grown children, will graduate from the high school here next Thursday. They quit school in Ypsilanti, Mich., 40 years ago, and re-entered here after their children had graduated.

The Two Way Three Bid

By Ely Culbertson

FOR many years I, as well as a host of other experts, have realized that hands containing "ready-made" suits (requiring no support in trumps from partner)

Ely Culbertson

Any opening suit bid of three shall be considered a two-way bid. Thus, two vastly different types of hand should be opened in the same way. For instance, let us consider these two hands:

♠A 7 3 ♠AKQJ86 ♠1085

Using the new two-way bid each of these hands should be opened with a bid of three diamonds. Obviously, it is vital for partner to determine which type actually is held. And he will be told, but first he must do his part by responding properly, according to his holding. Responses to a two-way three bid are as follows:

1. With any hand containing less than one honor trick or less than three small or two fair trumps (Jx) with a singleton, the responding hand will pass.
2. Holding one honor trick, or with three small or two fair trumps and a singleton, responder must give a single raise.
3. With no raise or proper take-out (see below), but holding one honor trick or more, the responder bids three no trump.
4. Take out a minor suit three bid in a biddable five card or longer major suit and one or more honor tricks.
5. Take out a major suit three bid into four of a lower ranking suit (or bid three diamonds over three clubs or three spades over three hearts) only with a five card or longer suit headed by A K, A Q or K Q and not less than two and one-half honor tricks in the hand. (All suit take-outs are forcing for one round.)
6. Jump to four of a major over three of a minor (or four spades over three hearts) only with a solid suit.
7. Respond with four no trump with about four honor tricks including at least two aces and the king of the bid suit, and no five card suit containing two of the three top honors.

The Crux.

And now we come to the crux of the situation, which is: How can partner tell whether the opening bidder has a strong or a weak hand?

He can tell by the opening bidder's next action! Space will not permit me to outline this today and, therefore, I shall continue the subject in tomorrow's article. Meanwhile, here is a hand that illustrates the shut-out value of a three bid:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠Q 7 4
♥Q 8 6
♦Q 9 6 5 4 2
♣A 3

The bidding:

South West North East
3 spades Pass 4 spades Pass
Pass Pass

If West were certain that South's bid were a confession of weakness he might risk life and limb by interjecting a desperate take-out double. With the possibility of South, as well as North, having a strong hand, none but the most foolhardy in the West position would do anything but pass. The same comments apply to a bid by East after North's raise to four spades. If East should find partner with a poor hand, or without a "fit," he would be slaughtered in a five bid.

Obviously, East and West could make a slam by guessing the heart Queen, but instead South walks off with his four spade contract, and rubber.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: With a 60 score, is an opening two bid in a suit forcing?

Answer: Yes, for one round of bidding.

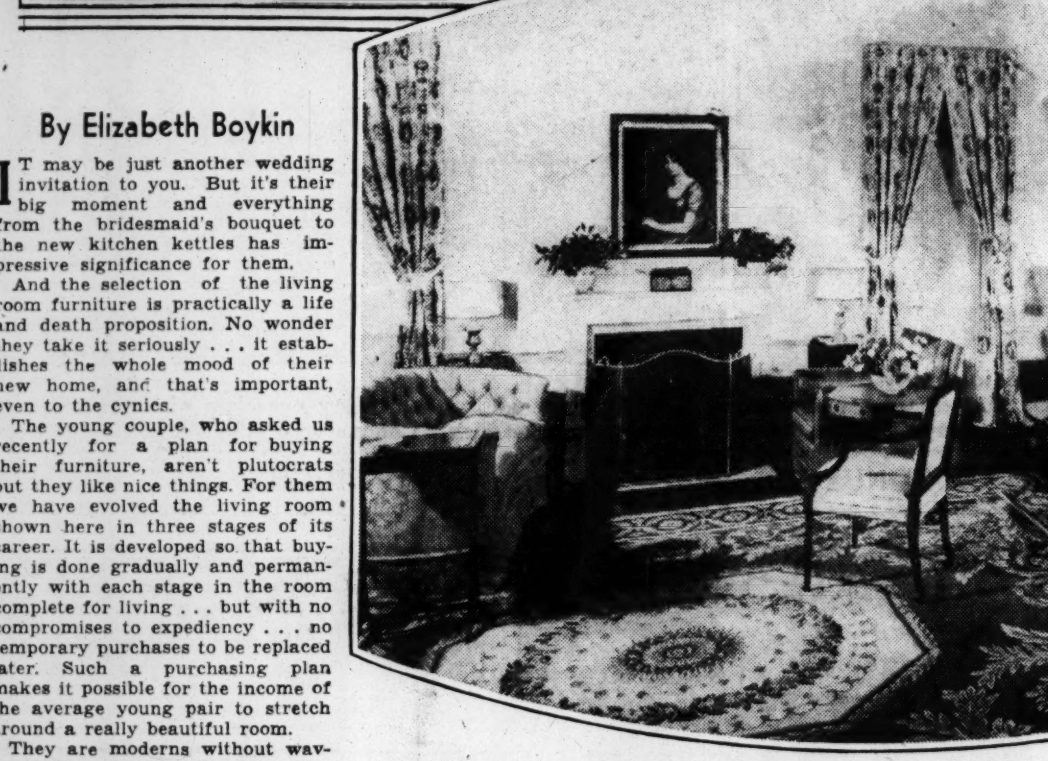

Chocolate Tarts

Melt two ounces of grated chocolate in one-half cup milk and when smooth add three-quarters cup milk and one-half cup sponge cake crumbs. Simmer gently for about eight minutes. Remove from fire and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, sugar to taste and one teaspoon vanilla. Line 10 tart tins with pastry, fill with the chocolate mixture and place narrow strips of pastry over the tops. Bake in a hot oven until the pastry is done and the centers are firm.

When ironing ruffled dresses, curtains, etc., always iron the ruffles first.

This is all the furniture a young couple have to have for their first apartment living room. And they're wiser for keeping quantity down and quality up at the start. These pieces are all nicer than most young couples would expect to start with, but they can afford them by buying less.

The final stage. Here is the room complete. The picture doesn't give the effect of the colorings, which are yellowed ivory and blues mostly, with touches of rose and green.

By Elizabeth Boykin

IT may be just another wedding invitation to you. But it's their big moment and everything from the bride's bouquet to the new kitchen kettle has impressive significance for them.

And the selection of the living room furniture is practically a life and death proposition. No wonder they take it seriously. It establishes the whole mood of their new home, and that's important, even to the cynics.

The young couple, who asked us recently for a plan for buying their furniture, aren't plutocrats but they like nice things. For them we have evolved the living room shown here in three stages of its career. It is developed so that buying is done gradually and permanently with each stage in the room complete for living. . . but with no compromises to expediency. . . no temporary purchases to be replaced later. Such a purchasing plan makes it possible for the income of the average young pair to stretch around a really beautiful room.

They are modern without waving a flag about it. But they like the aura of serenity and graciousness that traditional furniture can give a room. And so the upshot of the whole business was quite a lovely 18th century living room.

The colorings are subtle and charming. . . the furniture is beautiful and of excellent quality.

In its first incarnation, their living room was a smallish, typical apartment layout with walls in a pale shade of yellow. This part of the plan provides for only the absolute essentials. . . sofa, two easy chairs, three occasional tables, a bookcase-cabinet, two lamps and a mirror. The sofa they might take in muslin covering because they probably couldn't afford the type of covering they hope later to have on it. . . for the present they can get a slip cover in a stunning pattern of grey with a pale yellow magnolia pattern and touches of grey-green leaves. The draperies can be of this same chintz over glass curtains of the same pale yellow as the walls.

One arm chair in an antique blue satin. . . the other, a barrel chair, in a quilted covering of pale yellow or biscuit color. A pair of lamps with Wedgewood blue bases, a gilt frame mirror and mahogany for the furniture would be pleasant for this room.

FOR the floor. . . there are several possibilities. The one we favor is to buy a carpet that can later go in a bedroom. Another alternative is to have scatter rugs of good qualities that can be used in hall or foyer when the permanent living room rug is purchased. The main thing is—don't buy a makeshift rug. . . but it's just as well to postpone the buying of a really fine rug you'll want eventually. But in the meantime get a

What Women Do That's New In New York

Time Changes Society Pages a Hindu Mystic 10 Years Later.

By Alice Hughes

(Copyright, 1936.)

NEW YORK, June 15. WHEN I was a child of a girl in Manchester, N. H., and even when I first emigrated to this town nearly 20 years ago, I remember the society columns of the daily newspapers as being about the dullest stuff imaginable. Written in the driest, most conventional style, they imparted the thrilling information that Mrs. A. B. C. D. Van Vanderpool entertained Lord and Lady Carbuncle at an old-fashioned taffy-pull on Tuesday last—as if anyone gave a hoot.

But now, how changed! Due, probably, to the influence of the "gossip columns" of Broadway, the society pages of the local gazettes furnish hilarious reading, even if you don't know personally one person mentioned, and don't care to. Written by pencil-pushers with various quaint noms-de-plume, they retail all sorts of impertinent chit-chat about the swells and near-swells, their goose-grease or spoof visiting foreigners of title, and they give the impression that the writers are the dearest, fondest pals of all the persons they gas about. All the society folks are called by their first or nicknames—it is never Mrs. John Jacob Astor, for instance, but always Tucky French Astor. Real buddies!

Today the society pages are required reading, if only to snicker or even sneer gently. And it does give one such a clubby feeling with the elegants!

REMEMBER when the mystical Annie Besant, about a decade ago, brought to our shores that beautiful young Brahmin, Jiddu Krishnamurti—the spiritual hope of her adventures with the human soul? It was all too ecstatic!

The other day Krishnamurti stepped off a ship in our harbor—10 years older, his abundant black hair now streaked with gray. And now, with his precept in her grave, the Hindu tells us to mistrust all messianic and spiritual leaders—to think things out for ourselves, if we can. As I talked with him, I felt that Krishnamurti is a lost, unhappy man, who has at least found the beginnings of wisdom. No longer with a message of his own, he, too, is trying to think out the insoluble problems that blind and fetter the wandering human spirit.

Did you know that our city government operates two grand restaurants during the summer? One's the lovely old Claremont, overlooking the Hudson on Riverside drive; the other is the Tavern on the Green, in the cool greenery of Central Park. Good food and drink, reasonable prices, music and dancing, and well worth your time and money.

Teetotally surrounded by rivers, oceans and things as we are, people are forever falling into the various waters. Right down at the foot of my street last Sunday a 200-pound girl toppled into the East River. It took eight men nearly 20 minutes to get her out. She recovered! . . . Gas Stoves.

The outlets on gas stove should be cleaned frequently. Use a crumpled paper napkin to wipe them off, at least once a day. Brush them at least once a week with a stiff brush. When they are cleaned frequently they become clogged and you will be wasting gas, and not getting a maximum of heat from the flame.

Bathing Babies.

One mother has a white rubber stair tread that she puts on the bottom of the tub before the year-old baby is put in to bathe. He sits on this and is much more firmly planted than on the slippery porcelain.

The Removal Of Bacteria From Clothes

Medical Research Has Disclosed Laundering Effects on Germs.

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

A NEW IDEA was presented at one of the exhibits of the American Medical Association this year by the American Institute of Laundering of Joliet, Ill. The institute is owned by the National Laundrymen's Association, and is devoted to solving technical problems. The particular investigation which the institute undertook was a comparison between the number of germs in clothes after being laundered in a commercial laundry and a home laundry.

There is a widespread belief that clothes which go to a commercial laundry come back with the germs mixed, and the clothes come home with other people's germs clinging to them. The investigation certainly proved that that statement is untrue.

Comparing clothes washed in nine typical homes with clothes washed in a commercial laundry, the bacterial count was found to be 71 per cent. in the commercial laundry, and 31,000 per cent. in the home laundries. The laundries which were studied were in typical homes of every class, graded on the basis of American income. Making a bacterial count of clothes, it was found, as might be expected, that the highest bacterial count was in June and July and the next highest in August and September.

Weather.

This study shows the tremendous amount of bacteria held in clothes worn during the warm months of the year, when perspiration induced by exercise and a high temperature is common. Garments touch the wet skin, are contaminated with skin bacteria, and the warmth and moisture create excellent conditions for the growth of germs.

The reason that the commercial laundry is able to bring the bacterial count down better than the home is probably due to three conditions: one, that the temperature of the water in the home is never as high for as long a time as in the laundry; second, because the laundry uses nearly three times as much water as the average of the homes, and that it rinses offener in clean water and with fresh soda.

The exhibit was, of course, a strong argument in favor of commercial laundries, but there is no reason why the home laundry should not learn a lesson from the undoubtedly accurate results which the institute reports. Boiling the clothes longer, separating different kinds of clothes, using more water and more rinses, could bring the efficiency of the home laundry close to that of the commercial laundry.

The institute contemplates some further researches, especially fool-proof special handling of washing from homes with quarantinable diseases, washing which most states do not now permit. Laundrymen handle in any practical manner. This will afford great help to those who have the care of patients with contagious diseases, as there is no time when frequent changing of bed linen is more necessary.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

Dear Martha Carr:
I MET a young man three years ago—I am now almost 21 and he is over 24, and we are to be married in June.
In the past three years the young lady with whom my intended husband had been going when I met him was at a party, or walking on the street, or at a dance alone, he would invite her to ride along. I thought it was very nice for them to remain friends. A month ago we were passing when this young lady was waiting for a bus and she was invited along. After she was delivered to her home I said it wouldn't be long until he would have to discontinue this practice, etc.
"Oh, well, I just do these nice little things to make her feel good toward me; you know she could have made a big scene trying to make me marry her."
Well, this all registered on my face, and I could not find words, but it started me to thinking, and I cannot get this horrid picture out of my mind. Sure, I love him, but so did this girl, and no question. HEARTACHE AT TWENTY.

It is a heartbreaking experience for a young woman to have her idol reveal, so late, that he has "clay feet." But your indignation and disgust are well founded. There is no more apt word to use when a man so far forgets decency as to talk about any woman in this way; "yellow" is the word for it. What he can imagine your standards are, if he knows there are any, I cannot imagine. Undoubtedly he thinks, and rightly in some cases, that he is gaining favor with you by besting the character of another girl. And this is because girls, sometimes, prefer to blame the other girl instead of holding the man to a gentleman's standard; this is an excuse to themselves for overlooking his very low standards.
You would only be obliged to tell one or two of your friends that you had decided not to marry the boy; that there were, you found, irreconcilable differences; that you were disappointed. Your real friends will accept your statement, without prying farther. It doesn't matter what others think as you could never, probably, satisfy their curiosity.
Take a definite interest in everything going on — sports, giving a little party or two and without being frivolous about the matter, you must not allow yourself to look downcast or disheartened. And he will try if he talks about one woman as he will another, although he would not dare probably if you have a father or brother he thinks might resent this, bodily, to tell things about you that are not so, in order to make himself seem plausible and above reproach. But the men, at least, must know his record and will respect you all the more.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I AM writing you, as I haven't any else to go to. Please print this in your column: Daddy Gentry, please come to me; I need you. Your daughter, ODETTA.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I AM planning a "Scavenger Hunt" the evening of June 19, am having about 25 guests, all from high school, and I should like for you to send me a list of articles that you think would be good for the hunt. We will have cars and it will be in the city.
I am planning to send them out for two or three hours, then come back to dance and eat.

ANNA D.
Perhaps you would like to have my "Scavenger Hunt." If so, send me your address on a stamped envelope and I shall be very glad to mail it to you.

Dear Martha Carr:
A FRIEND of mine has a good handwriting and would like to know if there is any place that needs this kind of work. She has had many compliments on her work and she has had a very hard time getting a job.
A FRIEND.

Sometimes the letter companies and the stationery shops, where invitations are sold, can place work for a girl whose handwriting is distinctive.

Dear Martha Carr:
I AM a mother of girls and boys and am 53 years old. I have thought so many times I would write some of the troubled people who write in to your column, to tell them there is a remedy for them and for their low spirits. I live in a small place and if "Groping" will write me I believe I can help her and will be glad to try, as I am very much interested in young people.
MRS. J. H.

The correspondent, "Groping," may write in answer to this, but before I can send her your address, I should be glad to have you write me what you have in mind for her. Thank you for your interest.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

DAILY MAGAZINE

CANADA'S STARTLING MATERNITY CONTEST NEARS A DECISION

(Copyright, 1936.)
TORONTO, June 12.—As the half million dollar Charles Vance Millar baby race nears its end, it is still any body's race. Its outcome will not be known till Oct. 31, when the huge fund provided for in the will of that eccentric barrister who died on Oct. 31, 1926, will fall to the lot of the mother in some modest Toronto home, or be divided equally between two or more of them, in case of a tie.

As the final date draws near, interest in this novel contest is spreading rapidly, not only throughout Canada, but throughout the world. And this interest is destined to remain at white heat until October, for in that month two of the mothers listed as contestants expect the arrival of babies. Meantime the stork is expected to visit one of the other mothers in July and two more in August.
So, from the present outlook, it's almost anybody's race. The mother now in the lead, with 10 babies registered since Oct. 31, 1926, has no expectations. The three who now have nine each, all have expectations, as have two of the three contenders who now have eight each. If either of the two with nine plus expectations should give birth to twins, or of those with eight each, plus expectations, to triplets, the mark set by the present leader will be exceeded. In that case, the entire fortune of half a million dollars may all go to one family. If not, it seems certain the fund will be divided among four or more families.

The race started nearly 10 years ago when Charles Vance Millar, wealthy Canadian barrister, sportsman and humorist, made his will and died. His will caused an immediate sensation, and the whole nation laughed at its contents. Millar hadn't any children of his own, so he left the residue of his estate (half a million dollars) to the Toronto mother who from Oct. 31, 1926, to Oct. 31, 1936, gave birth to the largest number of babies; in the event of a tie, the money to be evenly divided.

That wasn't the only peculiarity of the strange will. Millar hated professional moralists and reformers, so to two of Canada's most distinguished reform leaders, Honorable W. E. Roney and The Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Shown (both since dead) he left shares in the Ontario Jockey Club, providing each of them should be elected as directors within three years of his death.

ADMITTING that his will was uncommon and capricious, the Canadian lawyer, who was an authority on corporation law and a writer of text-books on the subject, as well as an owner and breeder of race-horses, left to each of the duly ordained ministers of Christian churches (excepting one who shot an hotel-keeper) in Walkerville, Sandwich and Windsor, one share of the Kenilworth Jockey Club.

Besides leaving $10,000 to reimburse a business friend who had lost that amount in a business transaction with him, Millar appointed rival trust companies—the National Trust Co. and the Toronto General Trusts Corporation—as executors, and then appointed one of his own legal partners, Roy Sproatt, as a third executor, so that they would all "quarrel over fees and thus keep the handling of the estate perfectly straight."

Seven Toronto mothers who have given birth to an aggregate of 105 children, and who in the past nine and a half years have brought 61 children into the world, are now possible winners.

One mother, Mrs. Alice Timleck, claims to have had 10 children in the allotted time. Another, Mrs. Grace Bagnato, claims to have had nine, with a tenth expected in July. A third, Mrs. Kathleen Nagle, boasts nine babies, with a tenth coming in August. Mrs. Lily Ken-ny claims to have had 13 children in the 10-year period, but only nine of them are said to be registered. She expects another one on October 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hollis Timleck and Their 14 Children

Mrs. Kathleen Nagle and Elizabeth, 8 Months Old

14. Mrs. Hilda Graziano, Mrs. Madeline Harrison and Mrs. Manuela Darrigo have eight each, and all say they will have a total of nine or 10 children before October.

Although conjecture is rife as to who will receive ultimately the $500,000, it seems certain, at least, that Mrs. Alice Timleck, who now holds the lead in actual achievement, can hope for nothing better than a share of the great prize.

John Nagle and the 10 Nagle Children died, and now nearly 10 months old, is the baby who brought her mother's score up to 10.

Her husband, Arthur Hollis Timleck, is a robust, tanned Irish-Canadian, 38 years old. Mrs. Timleck is 36. He is a boat repairer, and though he doesn't make a lot of money, he has worked fairly steadily for many years, and has managed to keep his large family off relief.

"If we win that half million dollars," says Alice Timleck, "I intend to share the money with the Harrisons and the Nagles." Forced to go to work on a farm at the age of 6 years, she had only six months' schooling in her life. Yet by attending night school in her later years, she has learned to read and write.

"The Harrisons and the Nagles and my family are the only families in the running where there are a lot of living children," she said, "we three will have more need of the money."

In making that statement, Mrs. Timleck apparently overlooked some of the mothers listed in the Maternity Marathon. While the Timlecks have 16 living children, the Harrisons 14 and the Nagles 10, it must not be forgotten that the Darrigos have 12 and the Bagnatos 11.

Already Mrs. Timleck has made an effort to bring all the mothers concerned to an agreement in the mutual interest of all the families, urging them to form a "one for all and all for one" compact. The Nagles, Harrisons, Grazianos and Darrigos are willing. The Kennys and the Bagnatos are holding out.

But one thing is certain. If Alice Timleck is awarded any part of the half-million dollar prize, good use will be made of it in the Timleck household. Asked what she would do with the money if she wins all or part of the prize, she answered: "The things I want are a decent home in which to bring up my children, a housekeeper to help me, so that I can give them the better care; a good education for every one of my children, and respectable clothes for all of us. That's all we need or ask for."

KATHLEEN NAGLE, at 31, has 10 living children, none of them born since Oct. 31, 1926, and since she expects another in August, she thinks she has every reasonable prospect of winning at least part of the $500,000 fund.

Mrs. Nagle's husband, John, is 35 and has had no steady work for five years. Before that he was a mechanic and carpenter. The Nagles have had 11 children in their 14 years of married life, and all but one are living.

You should see the Nagles at meal-time. They eat in silence, for John Nagle is a quiet, bashful father, and Kathleen Nagle doesn't speak unless she has something worth saying. The children have been taught to be seen and not heard, and four or five of them are so shy that they cover their eyes with their hands when a stranger looks at them.

On the dinner table are meat cakes, mashed potatoes, stewed corn, custard and a "big pile of bread. All of it came from 'the welfare.' The municipality provides vouchers for families where there is no income—so much for meat and vegetables, so much for bread and milk, so much for fuel. The city pays $7 a month for the family's rent, too, and John Nagle manages to earn the other $7 a month by doing odd jobs in the neighborhood.

THE family eat hungrily. Not a scrap of food is left on the table when they are finished. Then the three older girls, Teresa, Peggy and Mary, help to clear the table. They take turns in washing and drying the dishes. Even the smallest children, Freddie, Eileen and Billy, have household duties. One of them sweeps the kitchen. Another shakes out the tablecloth.

Jackie, aged four, is told to rest his bandaged foot in an upright position, for he recently stepped on a piece of glass, and he obediently complies.

Kathleen Nagle is a good mother. She knows how to raise children. In her younger days she was a dietitian at a girls' boarding house. She was also a switchboard operator in a Catholic hospital. She re-

Brothers and Sisters Prone To Criticism

Parents Must Expect Children to Find Fault With Each Other.

By Angelo Patri

"DON'T expect him to let his sister live in peace all the time. I've long ago give up that dream. All I ask is that he stop short of hating her and affronting her in public. That is not too much to ask of even such a little savage as he is."

"What did he do?"
"You see Alvina is a little vain. I have to admit that, but what of it? Isn't he just as bad when he gets jealous of her and tries to shame her in public? Well, anyway, Alvina was to take part in the school play and she wanted to be the fairy and do a dance. The teacher said that would be all right. Alvina was delighted. What does her brother do?"

"The afternoon of the play he takes her dancing slippers and he smears chewing gum on the heels and toes. You get the idea? Of course she is so excited that she never looks at her slippers, so when she comes on dancing she can't twirl and skip and slide because her shoes stick. And right in the most important part her slippers come off. He's sitting right up in front with a gang of his friends and she has to sit out, and his gang with him. Now what do you think of that?"

"When I took him soundly to task for it he said, 'Aw, she's always showing off, as if she was too good for this earth and she's worse than I am.' Then he makes a long complaint about his sister, how she plays for attention, how she gets other people to do her work, how she gets whatever she wants and he only gets a bawling out. I've tried to keep peace between them, but it's useless. The funny thing about it all is that if others say a word against her he is on their backs like a spitting cat. It's beyond me."

Sisters who have brothers know without telling them they must look well to their manners. Brothers and sisters' severest critics. When they find their reproaches fall upon deaf ears they are likely to take their own measures of reform. Sticking chewing gum where it will be most likely to cause annoyance might be one of those measures. Not that I would justify such deplorable behavior. I merely explain it while I bemoan its expressions. Brotherly love takes queer turns in its flights, and sisters are usually conditioned to them through long experience. As a general thing they do their full share of the inciting to wrath, and retaliate promptly in kind when the wrath is wreaked upon their own heads.

Parents have to suffer this as best they may while they do their brave best to bring about understanding and harmony. By and by the strife ceases, the enemies are at peace and presenting a united front to the rest of the world. Few brothers there are who have not tormented their sisters in their affectionate concern for their welfare.

"Do I want her to make a holy show of herself? If you don't want me to stop her why don't you do it?"
Brothers are keenly sensitive about the public's regard for their sisters. Much of their disciplinary effort is misdirected, but it is none the less devoted and sincere. Perhaps this will serve to explain some brotherly attentions that have seemed beyond explanation.

Convert the empty hair tonic bottle which has a device for permitting only a few drops to fall at a time, into a bottle for bluing. The amount of bluing then may be controlled easily and the fingers and clothes will not be stained after the operation as with the ordinary bottle of blue.

Tomorrow Frank Chamberlain will discuss the other families of Toronto that have a chance to win the $500,000.

The Slide From Home

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE railroads are working up a new kind of passenger business around New York. Every traveler is a specialist.

During the winter there was a ski train for the Berkshires and the Adirondacks. You couldn't get on this train unless you had two sprained ankles and carried a pair of clothes poles.

This train ran 300 miles up the state and stopped at the first stylish avalanche. The passengers tied the poles to their bad ankles and slid down hills never to be seen again.

That train was always followed up by a rescue train searching for the lost, the wounded and the chilled. This train was all Pullman diners. Rescuers must eat and eat well. Arriving, they halted and released 16 white homing pigeons which circled around the spot and returned to New York in time to be met by the rescuers, who thereupon ate them in a pie.
